GERMANY AND FRANCE.

OFFICIAL DISPATCH.

BERLIN, November 29.—King William has forwarded the following to Queen Augusta: "VERSAILLES, November 29.—Yesterday, General Manteuffel, with a portion of the First Army, defeated the French a few miles south of Amiens. The French lost one thousand in killed and wounded, and seven hundred prisoners. The Prussian loss was comparitively unimportant."

The Duke of Mecklenburg-Schwerin is in the rear of La Mars, where Keratry has a French force of twenty-seven thousand men.

FUTURE POLICY OF GERMANY.

LONDON, Nov. 29, Noon.—By the provisions of the new North German Constitution, Prussia has only seventeen votes out of fifty-seven to be cast by the Confederation. From this fact it is generally inferred that the future policy of Germany will be peace.

NEW GERMAN LOAN.

A Committee of English bankers held a meeting last night and resolved to offer to take the entire new German loan of one hundred million thalers.

The feeling to-day in money circles is pacific.

A GREAT BATTLE EXPECTED.

Private French advices say that a great conflict between the opposing forces to the number of 300,000 men is likely to occur immediately in the Southern Department. The Prussians are within twelve miles of the French.

Lafere, a fortified town on the Oreal river, northeast of Paris, has capitulated. The German army is reported to be marching victoriously upon Tours.

REPORT CONTRADICTED.

English journals contradict the report published yesterday to the effect that the French had been driven from Lodon to Mezters, and that a French General was captured. The French still hold the place, and no fight occurred.

HELD IN PARIS.

A Berlin dispatch announces that the Russian military agent in Paris has been forbidden to leave the city, for fear he will betray its desperate condition.

NOT BANISHED.

Provisional Governor Trochu denies the statement that he intends to banish 10,000 Parisians because of the scarcity of provisions.

[Special to the New York World.]

PRUSSIAN OCCUPANCY.

LONDON, Nov. 29.—The following dispatch has just been received here from Eureaux, dated yesterday: The Prussians now occupy this town and are in the valley of Eure in great force. This evening they were driven towards the village of Villar by the Guards Mobiles, who retreated in town when reinforcement came up for the enemy.

Seventy thousand Prussians now occupy Amiens.

DESULTORY FIGHTING.

There was some sharp fighting yesterday in front of the army of the Lorie all along the country between Pithiviers and Montargis. Particulars are yet wanting, but it is said that the French were generally successful, having captured many prisoners and one cannon.

STRATEGIC FAILURE.

The Duke of Mecklenburg has failed in the attempt to occupy Lemans, which was covered by a corps of 30,000 men, composed of Fierch's and Keratry's troops, commanded by Gen. Fierch. The main body of DeAurell's army still occupies an entrenched position at Orleans and Arthenay. The Germans attempted to encircle him by pushing forward one force, commanded by Frederick Charles, to Gien, another to Blois, under command of the Duke of Mecklenburg, while the entire circle directly in front of Arthenay was commanded by Von der Tann. The government here has every assurance that D'Aurelles' strategy was admirable and that at the proper moment he will assume the offensive, pierce Von der Tann's line and push towards Versailles, leaving sufficient force of both wings to occupy the attention of Frederick Charles and the Duke of Mecklenburg.

MONDAY'S FIGHT.

A special dispatch from Tours to-day, says: Yesterday the right wing of the army of the Loire having repulsed, during the previous day, several attempts of the enemy to turn its flank, advanced to Gein and Montargis, and then commenced a movement towards Pithivier's combination, with an advance of the right centre of the army at Artenay to the same point. While these movements were being made, detachments of the enemy were in every case driven towards Beaume, midway between Montargis and Pithiviers. Here at two o'clock in the afternoon the enemy passed 40,000 men, consisting of the Tenth Corps, Fifth and First Divisions. The French assailed the Prussian positions from the South, capturing two guns. At night-fall the Germans seemed to be retreating further North. The German losses on the 27th and 28th inst., were very heavy.

BISMARCK ON FRANCE.

Russell did not come to talk over the Oriental question, but to treat for a new armistice. Yesterday he interviewed Bismarck two hours. Bismarck said the unconditional surrender of Paris would not be accepted. The capitulation of the city would only be permitted when the conditions for a complete cessation of hostilities had been agreed upon, and that those who threaten that the war will not end with the fall of the capital will be circumvented. The Provisional Government must bear the odium of making peace. Hunger and rebellion will speedily constrain them to complete submission. With the dismantling of Paris—to arm which so many strong places were made defenceless—France will be so completely weaponless as to be innocuous for a decade of years, even should she turn to refitting her arsenals and replacing her artillery.

PACIFIC DISPOSITION.

The latest Paris journals bear witness to the Pacific disposition of the people who they say denounce the obstinacy of the Tours government.

GERMAN LEFT ATTACKED.

TOURS, November 29.—The right wing of the French army made six simultaneous attacks on the German left yesterday. They were successful in five of these actions.

TOURS, Nov. 29.—The Gazette de France reports that General Le Bousion successfully engaged the Germans near Pithiviers. Gen. Bourbaki has assumed the command of the ninth army corps.

KERATRY RESIGNS.

The New York Tribune's correspondent at Tours, telegraphs that General Keratry in a letter unprecedented in style, unpatriotic, arrogant and egotistical in manner, has given in his resignation, in the face of the enemy. He threatens Gambetta with a Council of War and accuses General Laverda of treason. Jurres has been appointed to succeed Keratry in command.

A SERIOUS ATTACK.

Our correspondent at Versailles says: There was a serious attack upon the Prussian corps stationed at Clichy this morning, but the assaulting columns were repulsed. There were many killed and two hundred and fifty prisoners taken. Loss on the German side small. A Bavarian corps was also engaged. A heavy fire was kept up by the French from Villejuif.

FRENCH REPULSED.

VERSAILLES, November 29.—The French yesterday resumed the [illegible] at [illegible] between [illegible] and [illegible], and were in turn repulsed. Prince Frederick Charles was present and directed the operations. A thousand prisoners fell into our hands.

GARIBALDI'S DEFEAT CONFIRMED.

Official dispatches from Gen. Von Werder confirm the reports of the defeat of the Garibaldians at Pesmes on Saturday last, and their disorderly flight. Gen. Von Werder followed up his success on the next day by turning the position to which the French had retreated, falling on their rear, and inflicting a loss of about four hundred killed. The French retreated in two directions. The Prussian loss will not exceed fifty killed. The retreat of the Army of the North from Amiens was in an orderly manner. A Prussian officer captured before Amiens says the German plan is to attack Lille and Dunkirk.

RAILWAY RE-OPENED.

LONDON, Nov. 29.—The trustees have re-opened the Paris & Strasbourg Railway to Chelles, ten miles east of Paris. They completed a new road around the tunnel near Chelles, which had been destroyed by the French, and now facilities for transporting reinforcements and supplies to the army besieging Paris are vastly increased.

DUNKIRK.

BRUSSELS, November 29.—Belgium asks for the neutralization of Dunkirk. It is said that the Empress of the French has been in this city since Monday.

RUSSIA AND EUROPE.

AUSTRIA ACCEPTS.

LONDON, November 29.—The New York Tribune's correspondent at Vienna telegraphs this afternoon that the proposal of Prussia for conference on the Black Sea question was submitted to the Austrian Cabinet and accepted in principle, but final agreement was made dependant upon certain preliminaries.

THE RUSSIAN QUESTION.

Prussia's action, so much suspected at first, promises to be the key to the situation. Scarcely any doubt exists at the Foreign Office that a conference will assemble. The English government considers Prussia's intervention exceedingly useful. Prussia heard with regret and surprise of the Russian circular, and she concurs in the English view that if the powers enter into a conference its action must be unfettered. It is settled that the conference, if held at all, will meet in London. It will surely be held if no unforeseen obstacle prevents. No doubt Russia's assent to the principle of the conference question will be obtained and the withdrawing of Gortschakoff's first note will probably be avoided or evaded, rather than forced into a direct issue. England is disposed to be content with the practical results, and if Russia agrees frankly to enter a conference, opening all questions, there will neither be difficulty about phrases, nor unwillingness to meet her views as now understood on essential points of the treaty. Von Bismarck's energetic co-operation elicits warm expressions from English statesmen who a fortnight since distrusted him most.

WHERE ENGLAND STANDS.

The Times says: Desiring peace, we stand on the maintenance of peace guaranties and the repudiation altogether of the claim to supercede the obligations of the treaty of 1856, a violation of which we cannot acquiesce in. The Times also gives a conspicuous place to a number of contributions insisting on the neutrality of the Black Sea or a declaration of war.

RUSSIA WILL RECEDE.

It is officially stated in the Telegraph that Russia has decided to withdraw her demand and submit her proposition to a decision of conference.

ENGLAND DIPLOMATIC.

The Cabinet at the session yesterday resolved not to agree to a conference on the Russian question, unless the Czar first withdraws his note, which, it is affirmed in well informed circles, he will not be likely to do.

THE QUEEN WILL ACCEPT.

It is now said that the Queen will accept Granville's resignation. His friends demand the withdrawal of Russia's note before the negotiations proceed further.

THE PROPOSED CONFERENCE.

At a Cabinet council held yesterday a dispatch was read from Odo Russell, containing Bismarck's proposal for a conference, to be held at London, to settle the Russian claims, and also a note from Count Bernstoff to Granville stating that Prussia recommended Russia to withdraw Gortschakoff's note, on condition that the conference would be held. Gortschakoff's second note was read the third time, and the Cabinet then agreed to Earl Granville's reply, expressing the willingness of England to a conference, provided that Russia withdraws Gortschakoff's first note. Messengers were immediately sent to St. Petersburg and Versailles to convey this reply.

RUSSIAN FEELING.

Private advices from St. Petersburg represent the anti-England feeling to be strong, and that even old English residents find it necessary to absent themselves from public places.

ENGLAND WILL BACK DOWN.

A correspondent, writing from Versailles on the 25th, says: It is the opinion at head quarters that England means nothing by shrieking for Turkey, but will back down so soon as she sees Russia and Prussia acting together.

THE EASTERN QUESTION AGAIN.

VIENNA, November 29.—It is reported here that the recent declarations from St. Petersburg demand that preparation be made by the European powers for early action.

NEW AMBASSADOR.

THE HAGUE, November 29.—Mr. Stenerson, Ambassador in this city from Sweden and Norway, goes to Washington in the same capacity.

TURKEY NOT YET CONSENTED.

A special correspondent at St. Petersburg on Tuesday evening telegraphs as follows: "Turkey has not yet consented to a conference, but probably will."

Other Cable Dispatches.

PRUSSIA.

BERLIN, November 29.—The General Congress of Manufacturers will meet in Manheim on December 5, to consider what alterations in the tariff and other political and commercial stipulations may be rendered necessary by the reunion of Alsace and Lorraine to Germany.

HEAVY BAIL REFUSED.

One hundred thousand thalers has been offered for the release of banker Guterbach by his family, and has been refused.

THE PRUSSIAN LOAN.

BERLIN, November 29.—Of the new Prussian loan fifty million thalers will be issued in dollar and pound notes. Consortium has made bids for 51,000,000 thalers of the loan and pending concessions, the remainder is offered at 95.

AUSTRIA CONGRATULATES PRUSSIA.

BERLIN, Nov. 29.—The Austrian government has congratulated Prussia in the accomplishment of the consolidation of Bavaria, Baden, Hesse and Wurtemberg with the German Confederation.

CUBA.

HAVANA, November 29.—The American schooner Frank Palmer, from Matanzas, was lost at sea on Friday last. The crew were saved.

Col. Barnes, Gen. Covado's chief of staff, has been captured by the Cuban forces.

The Spanish gunboat Alarma is ashore at Ensenada de Cocheras. The cannon was removed to lighten the vessel with the hope of getting her off. She will prove a total loss.

Col. Cabura, the insurgent leader who has command of a party belonging to Jesus Del Sol during the severe illness of that famous chief, surrendered himself and his men yesterday.

Christabel Mendiehen, ex-Cuban Secretary for Foreign Affairs, and formerly editor of the Havana Siegle, was captured at Quasemas, and is among those lately sentenced to death by the court as leaders of the rebellion.

IRELAND.

The corporation of Trinity College, Dublin, have petitioned the British Government to interpose and save the literary and scientific collections in Paris from destruction.

GREECE.

LONDON, November 29.—The Greek Industrial Exhibition was opened at Athens on Sunday last by the King and Queen. Great ceremony marked the occasion.

ITALY.

FLORENCE, Nov. 29.—The Italian Ministry is severely censured on all hands for authorizing the seizure of journals which published the Papal Encyclical.

SWITZERLAND.

BERNE, Nov. 29.—The citizens of France are not permitted to pass through Switzerland to join the French armies.

MARINE NEWS.

QUEENSTOWN, November 29.—The steamship City of Cork has arrived from New York.

LONDON, November 29.—A dispatch has been received here announcing that the Hamburg steamer Hammonia will not sail for New York at present. She is detained being leaky.

PORTLAND, ME., Nov. 29.—The steamship Prussian, from Liverpool, has arrived.

HAVANA, November 29.—Advices from Nassau report the arrival there of the American men-of-war "Tuscarora" and "Pilgrim." The French man-of-war "Talisman" has been seen cruising in the track of a German steamer, sailing for New Orleans for Bremen via Havana.

QUEENSTOWN, November 29.—The steamer "Pennsylvania," from New York for Liverpool, touched here to-day. The steamer "City of London," from New York for Liverpool, arrived out yesterday.

LONDONDERRY, Nov. 29.—The steamship Norway from Quebec, for Liverpool, arrived to-day.

Indignation Meeting.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

MONTGOMERY, ALA., November 29.—The meeting last night to express indignation at the course of W. H. Smith and Arthur Bingham, in refusing to vacate the offices of Governor and Treasurer, was largely attended. All the speeches were made by Republicans, and resolutions were adopted expressing the indignation and disapprobation of the people at the course taken by Smith and Bingham.

THE unpleasantness of occupying a newly painted house may readily be avoided by the use of zinc water-paint. Powdered oxide of zinc (which may be beaten with a little potato starch, if more "body" be wanted) is combined with the desired mineral or vegetable color, and with this an aqueous solution of chloride of zinc, to which some tartaric of potassa has been added, is then mixed; the water-paint thus formed being applied with a brush on the surface to be coated. In half an hour this paint will be perfectly dry; and the object of the alkaline tartarate is to make the drying process less rapid. The advantages of using the water-paint are very numerous; they are more durable than oil paints, do not blacken by exposure to sulphurous vapors, are devoid of odor, dry quickly, resist dampness and the action of the water, can be cleaned with boiling water and soap like oil paints, and preserve the wood to which they are applied from decay, and render it less combustible. This latter property may be increased by the addition of borax. Both the oxide and the chloride of zinc can be manufactured without danger to the health of the workman, sold at a low price, and kept for any length of time in any climate.

The Darien Expedition—The Funding Bill Pronounced Imperfect—The Alabama Question—Serious Charge Refuted by a Revenue Collector—Revenue District Consolidation—The Southern Troubles—Personals—Scarcity of Congressmen in Washington—Change in Import Duties, &c., &c.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, November 29, 1870.

THE DARIEN EXPEDITION.

The United States ship Guard, Commander E. P. Tall, will leave New York on the Darien expedition about the second of December. Commodore Selfridge, who has command of the expedition, will take passage in the Guard, and proceed at once to the mouth of Atrato river, when work is to be begun. After organizing the various parties which are to perform hydrographic and shore duty, Commodore Selfridge will take the Nipsic, Lieutenant Commander Byron Wilson, due at Atrato the middle of January, and proceed to Aspinwall and Panama. At the latter port she will find the steamer Saginaw, detained by the department for the purpose of carrying surveys from the Pacific side at the entrance of the Darien river. The principal work of the Selfridge expedition is to be prosecuted on the Pacific side. The party which are to take passage in the Guard are rapidly assembling in New York. The civilian scientific staff was to be very strong on the present Darien expedition. It will be composed of an astronomer, naturalist, photographer and civil engineer from the coast survey portion. These gentlemen will go in on the Pacific side later in the season.

THE FUNDING BILL.

A Senator occupying a leading position on the Finance Committee, and one who had voted for the original bill, said yesterday that he had grave doubts about the working of the Funding bill in its present shape, and that he should not be surprised if it was made the subject of early legislation by Congress. He does not think that the four per cent. certificates can be taken in the present condition of the money market, nor does he think that there is any immediate prospect of improvement. He would be in favor of amending the law so as to make the rate of interest on all bonds at four and a half and five per cent. He said the Secretary of the Treasury will not oppose the limited amendment.

TOPICS OF INTEREST.

The subject of the Alabama claims, and who will be Motley's successor as American Minister to England, are regarded as the principal points of interest in connection with the foreign policy which the administration will recommend to Congress at the commencement of the approaching session. After the Senate reassembles the President will nominate a new Minister to England, and he will be a man who faithfully reflects the sentiments of the administration on that question. And it is believed that the position which the President assumes on the great point at issue between the United States and Great Britain is quite in accordance with the universal sentiment of the people of this country, and that ample reparation will be required for the injury inflicted to our commerce during the rebellion.

CHARGES DENIED.

Congressman elect Sessions, of the Chautauqua District, New York, United States Marshal Base and Collector Daniels, of Buffalo, who is charged with a decrepancy in his accounts to the tune of three hundred thousand dollars, arrived in town yesterday and called on the President and Secretary Boutwell, to both of whom the latter denied that there was any defalcation in his office, but that the whole thing was a scheme of Buffalo politicians, in the interest of Congressman Bennett, of that district. The Treasury Department is investigating the matter.

REVENUE CONSOLIDATION.

The measure for the consolidation of Internal Revenue districts, now going on, will relieve the country of the services of about one hundred and sixty Assessors and Collectors, besides many minor officers. Since October 1st the number of Assistant Assessors dispensed with is four hundred and nineteen, and by the first of January it will reach six hundred. The expense of collecting the revenue, which has reached nearly eight millions per annum, will by this means probably be reduced to six millions per annum.

THE SOUTHERN TROUBLES.

There is a general call for troops to quell the disturbances in many parts of the South. A Democratic letter writer reports the arrival at Columbia, S. C., of six companies of infantry, whose destination is supposed to be Union, Spartansburg and Lawrence counties, in that State, and adds that the people do not dread or dislike the presence of the United States soldiers, but will even welcome them, and assist in capturing the roaming marauders calling themselves militia.

IMPORTANT TO AGRICULTURISTS.

The Commissioner of Agriculture has just received from the Imperial Botanical Gardens of St. Petersburg, a collection of Russian apples, embracing about four hundred varieties in duplicate. These have come in perfect condition and are well provided with grafts, which will be at once distributed to nurserymen and others who desire to experiment with and propagate from these, promising acquisition, in the north and northwestern States.

PERSONALS.

Justice Nelson, of the United States Supreme Court, who has been for several months in feeble health, writes that he will be here on Saturday next, his health having greatly improved. As he is the senior Judge on the bench, he will have charge of the Court until relieved by the Chief Justice in February.

COMING SLOWLY.

It is positively asserted that the San Domingo treaty will be somewhat modified and sent into the Senate again this winter.

Considering that less than a week will elapse before the assembling of Congress, there are fewer Senators and Representatives in the city than is usual at this time.

CHANGE IN IMPORT DUTIES.

It is learned that early in the session of Congress a prominent Western Senator will introduce a bill allowing import duties and all taxes arising from customs to be paid in United States currency instead of gold, as at present required.

ERRONEOUS IMPRESSION.

The statement wildly published that the Mexican Claim Commission will not entertain the claims filed after February 1st, 1869, is erroneous.

WOMAN'S SUFFRAGE.

Annual Meeting of the Northwestern Woman's Suffrage Association—Fair Attendance—Susan Anthony on the Stand—Resolutions Reported.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

DETROIT, November 29.—The annual meeting of the Northwestern Woman's Suffrage Association commenced its sessions at the Y. M. C. A. Hall this morning at ten o'clock. The attendance was not very large, but embraced many of the most famous women engaged in the movement. Mrs. M. A. Hazlett, of Hillsdale, Michigan, occupied the chair, being President of the Association. Upon the platform were seated Mrs. Susan B. Anthony, Mrs. Celia M. Burleigh, of Brooklyn; Miss Lillie Peckham, of Milwaukee; Judge Waite, of Chicago, and several other prominent personages. Delegations are present from the States of Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin and there is no doubt that the other States will be represented before the final adjournment. The first business of importance was the annual address of the President, delivered by Mrs. Hazlett. A Committee was appointed on Rules, Resolutions, Appointment of Officers and Revision of Constitutions. Miss Anthony being called for, spoke for a few minutes, urging chiefly that the women engaged in the movement should aim to hold the balance of power between the two great parties of the land, and not content themselves with joining either. In this way only, said Miss Anthony, could they secure a real power in the nation and obtain those rights—at present practically denied them by both parties. She spoke of the experiment which has been tried in Wyoming of entrusting women with the ballot, and characterized it as a complete success. So with regard to their acting as jurors and in the capacity of Justices and Judges.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The Convention re-assembled at 2:30 P. M. The attendance was about the same as in the morning, not very large, but embraced able representatives from several of the northwestern cities. The Committee on Resolutions reported the following, which was accepted for the purpose of discussion:

Resolved, That, under a Republican government, suffrage is not a privilege merely, but a right of the citizen, and a duty.

Resolved, That no citizen of the United States can be rightfully deprived of the suffrage, except for some reason founded upon the law of nature or of nations, and which can be comprehended and made satisfactory to intelligent minds.

Resolved, That while that State has the right to regulate the suffrage as to the manner of its exercise within its own limits, no State has the right arbitrarily to exclude whole classes of citizens from the elective franchise. Such exclusion is in violation of the spirit, if not the letter, of the Constitution of the United States.

Resolved, That having confidence in these principles, and entertaining no fear of the results of carrying them into practice, we will continue our efforts to have them incorporated into the legislative action, not only of the States, but also of the nation.

The discussion of these resolutions was participated in by Judge Waite, of Chicago, Gatie B. Stebbins, of Detroit, Lillie Peckham, of Milwaukee, Mrs. C. C. Lathrop, of Jackson, Michigan, and Mrs. Burleigh, of Brooklyn.

In the evening addresses were delivered by Lillie Peckham, of Milwaukee, Adam Elder, of Detroit, Judge Bradwell, of Chicago, and others.

First Trial Under the New Election Law—A Colored Repeater Convicted—The Working Women's Protective Union—Calcott's Case—Fraudulent Pay Rolls—Dartmouth College Reunion—Heavy Failure of a Grocery House—Census to be Retaken—Cruelty on Shipboard, etc., etc.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 29, 1870.

FIRST JURY TRIAL UNDER NEW ELECTION LAWS.

Lucuis M. Sawyer a colored man who was indicted for registering three times in the Eight ward, was placed on trial in the United States Circuit Court to-day, this being the first jury trial in this district under the new United States election law. His counsel, John Fitch, contended that his client was suffering from softening of the brain and was not responsible for his acts. The jury after about an hour's absence, found Sawyer guilty and recommended him to the mercy of the Court. He was remanded for sentence.

WORKING WOMEN'S PROTECTIVE UNION.

The eighth annual meeting of the Working Women's Protective Union was held yesterday. The report of the treasurer set forth that during the year employment had been procured for about two thousand girls, and that legal proceedings had been instituted in two hundred and fifty cases where wages were wrongfully detained.

EFFORTS TO RELEASE CALCOTT.

Strenuous efforts are being made to secure the release from the Albany penitentiary of ex-Speaker J. C. Calcott, whose term of imprisonment has expired, but he is unable to pay the $10,000 fine imposed.

FRAUDULENT PAY ROLLS.

Col. Frank Howe caused the arrest of Chas. F. Phelps, weigher in the custom house, to-day, for dealing in public offices and making out fraudulent pay rolls. Phelps was held in $10,000 bail.

DARTMOUTH REUNION.

Attorney General Akerman, Senator Morrill and between eighty and one hundred other notables have signified their intention of attending the Dartmouth College reunion in this city on Thursday.

SUSPENSION.

The large grocery firm reported as having suspended is Bagley & Mead. The suspension was the result of speculation. Liabilities unknown, but are reported large.

BRUTALITY ON SHIPBOARD.

Captain Gaindle, of the ship Old Colony, was held in $3,000 bail to-day, for brutality in beating two of his crew.

RETAKING THE CENSUS.

Marshal Sharp is engaged in making preparations for retaking the census of New York city.

VARIOUS ITEMS.

The steamship Denmark, from Liverpool, has arrived.

Over 1,714,000 Irish emigrants have arrived in this city since 1847. The number of emigrants last week was 2,582.

The steamer Erie is expected to sail for France to-day with a large cargo of munitions of war, comprising 1,300,000 cartridges and 6,000 altered Springfield rifles.

The French "Fastar," which has been the most successful of all the charitable undertakings, will close with a grand concert and lottery on Friday next.

BRIEF TELEGRAMS.

—Last Saturday the neighbors of Simeon Andrews assembled at his house in Fayette county, Kentucky, to attend a church festival. A difficulty occurred about a dog, which resulted in Benjamin Bogy, the only white man present, shooting into the house, wounding several negroes. The latter returned the fire, mortally wounding Bogy. Five of the negroes were arrested and taken before the County Justices, charged with killing Bogy, and the examination was deferred until today. It was reported last night that two of the prisoners, John Brown and Charles Bogarey, were captured and hung by the Ku Klux.

LITERATURE, MUSIC AND ART.

"LOTHAIR" is running through the Gazetta d'Italia at Rome.

A WEEKLY edition, price one penny, of the Waverly Novels is the last novelty in London.

TOM HOOD'S daughter, now Mrs. Brodnip, has in press a story entitled, "The Whispers of a Shell; or Stories of the Sea."

A NUMBER of selections from Henry Ward Beecher's writings has been published in London under the the title of "One Thousand Gems."

A NEW organ has been placed in the Church of St. Edward the Martyr, Corfe Castle, which is said to have been without an organ since the time of Cromwell.

THE Countess Guiccioli (Madame de Boissy) has completed her new work, "Lord Byron in Italy," which will contain over fifty letters from the great poet, hitherto unpublished.

A PIANO-FORTE presented to the monks by the Prince of Wales, is one of the most valued mementoes of English tourists in the salle a manger of the Hospice of the great St. Bernard.

MOXON & CO., of London, are about to publish a series of illustrations by Birket Foster, twenty-five in number, engraved on stone, the subjects selected from the works of Thomas Hood.

MR. LEWIS H. MORGAN, of Rochester, has made the primitive condition of man a special study for many years, and his work on the subject, embracing the most extensive researches, is in course of publication by the Smithsonian Institute.

WEBER'S "Oberon" has lately been given in London, with Titiens, Trebelli, Fancelli, Bettini and Cotogni in the cast. Mlle. Baurmeister sang the Mermaid song. "Oberon" was first produced in London in 1826, under the composer's personal direction.

W. M. ROSSETTI has recently edited an edition of Longfellow, for Messrs. Moxon & Co.'s Popular Poets; and, in speaking of American poets, gives the palm to Walt. Whitman, who, he says, "is a man enormously greater than Longfellow, or any other of his poetic compatriots."

AN imitation of miners' dialect, or affectation of simplicity and two or three undeniable vulgarities all strung together in rhyme and called "Little Breeches," have convinced some unknown poetaster that he is a sort of Bret Harte, and he has published the result to the world.

BERNARDIN ST. PIERRE'S charming and idylic romance of "Paul and Virginia" has been converted into a burlesque by an English dramatist, and performed at the Olympic Theatre, London. It is consolatory that the subjected is reported as being "not very funnily treated."

IT was given out somewhat privately during the stay of Max Strakosch's party in Hartford, Conn., that efforts were in progress to get Parepa Rosa, on her return from Europe, into a grand operatic company, in which she and Nilsson should be the bright particular stars.

MESSRS. SHELDON & CO., of New York, have a book in the press which, owing to the course of recent events, is a most seasonable production. It is entitled "The Death of the Second French Republic; or, Napoleon the Little." It is by Victor Hugo, and the work of the translation has been performed by a clergyman of the Protestant Episcopal Church, whose name, however, does not appear.

AMONG recent English books we find "The Talmud," by Emanuel Deutsch; Milman's Essays contributed to the Quarterly Review; "The Revolt of the Protestants in the Cevennes," by Mrs. Bray; "Letters of Spiritual Council and Guidance," by the late Rev. John Keble, together with his "Miscellaneous Poems," and a third revised edition of his "Memoir," by Coleridge; and a new translation of Bede's "Ecclesiastical History," by Rev. L. Gidley.

THOSE who have a fancy for tracing literary coincidences and plagiarisms will be interested in learning the origin of a quite clever novelette which appeared in Harper's Magazine for October. If they will read the story there entitled "The Detective, a Tale of the old Walton Mansion," and then turn to the Dublin University Magazine of 1848, to the story of the "Watcher," they will find a duplicate of the fiction, and perhaps more than a duplication of their satisfaction.

IT is intended to erect a statue of Charles Dickens in the old city of Rochester, in the county of Kent, England. It will be remembered that Dickens lived quite close to Rochester in his school days; that his final residence was within four miles of that city, and that he introduced it under the name of Cloisterham into his last unfinished story, and that the real action of Mr. Pickwick and his friends, in the earliest of the green-covered serials "by Boz" commences in that time-honored locality.

SOME inquiry is now being made in the United States for twenty or thirty letters written by Robert Burns, the poet, to his best friend, Mr. Robert Aiken, writer, (lawyer) Ary, Scotland, before his marriage to Jane Armour. The letters were stolen from Mr. Aiken's desk by a runaway clerk, who took them with him to the United States. One of these letters is said now to be in the hands of Mr. James Black, of Detroit, and a copy of it was published in the Scottish American Journal, New York on the 13th of August. By law, all letters are the property of the writer; therefore, it is argued this series belongs by right to the heirs of Robert Burns.

FORTY-FOUR thousand women are employed as out-door laborers in England.

ENGLISH sympathy in the European war is said to be gradually changing from Germany to France.

AN insurance company has been formed at Lille to insure property against the damage resulting from bombardment.

THE Cologne Gazette insists that so long as France refuses to admit the principle of a cession of territory the war must be continued.

THE prowess of the German army is the more remarkable from the fact that up to the Danish campaign, both officers and men were untried in warfare.

THE Earl of Egmont, a childless millionaire, reputed to live upon about one-fourth of his income, has given £20,000 to the Irish Church. He has large estates in Ireland.

THE new uniform of the Russian army is similar to the naval uniform of other nations. The color remains a dark green, and the epuiets and gold lace are unchanged.

THE English families remaining in Paris are reported to be in very great distress. A fund has been opened for the relief of those who have reached England destitute.

GENERAL DE BARRAL, who distinguished himself at Strasburg, has been thrown into prison by the populace of Greenoble, simply because he is a general of the Empire.

THE necessities of the defence of Paris have compelled the conversion of the Pantheon into a central powder magazine. The religious services have been temporarily suspended.

BY General Moltke's letter of thanks in reply to many addresses sent to him, it appears that he was celebrating his seventy-first, and not his seventieth birthday, as was stated first.

A CONTEMPORARY proposes the establishment of "training colleges," wherein young women may be taught how to rear infants according to the latest lights of medical and social science.

THE Baron von Rahden, the husband of the prima donna Lucca, who is expected to recover though still very ill, has been promoted to the grade of First Lieutenant, and has also been decorated with the Iron Cross.

THE success of Germany seems to have checked the disaffection of the Poles. An address is now circulating among the better classes, to which signatures are solicited, expressing their loyalty to King William.

JUST about the time of the fearful floods in Virginia, Australia was visited by a similar calamity, more sweeping than any which has occurred for the last fourteen years. A frightful amount of damage was done.

THERE appears to be a somewhat improved state of relations between Garibaldi and Gen. Michels, who has succeeded Cambriels at Besancon. Garibaldi's men, eight thousand in number, are to be armed and have a battery of artillery.

THE total receipts into the National Exchequer of Great Britain from the 1st of April to the 5th of November were £36,395,623, against £40,421,063 in the corresponding period of last year. The balance in the Bank on Saturday was £1,273,627.

THE news of the fall of Metz was made known at Tours in a queer, mysterious way, by the nods, the winks, the repeated handshakes of the many wealthy people, all of whom cordially hate the Republic and rejoiced at its humiliation.

THE death of M. Baroche at Jersey, on October 25, is confirmed. His son, M. Ernest Baroche, was killed at Le Bourget, before Paris, on October 30, while endeavoring to rally a battalion of mobiles under his command, which was giving way.

IN Paris, one can go scarcely fifteen yards without coming upon a house with a large red cross conspicuous upon it. Nearly all the theatres are ambulances, and the actresses, many of them working as hard in the role of infirmieres as they ever did on the stage.

A DECREE has been issued by the Government for the National Defense in Paris, declaring that "France adopts the children of citizens who may die in its defense. The wants of their widows and their families will be relieved by the State should they demand it."

EVEN in Versailles there is said to have been already deaths from starvation. Most respectable persons are in great distress, selling plate and valuables for the means of buying mere necessaries of life; families accustomed to every comfort are in the depths of indigence.

A TELEGRAM from Wilhelmhaven announces that the great iron-clad Konig Wilhelm was partially burned through the carelessness of some of the crew in spilling spirits of turpentine, which was accidentally ignited. The fire was put out after three hours' desperate exertion.

MARSHAL BAZAINE seems to have had a mauvais quart d'heure on his way to Wilhelmshohe. At Pont-a-Mousson he was received with yells, and was compelled to go to the German commandant to procure quarters. At Nancy he was pelted with stones; in Metz his name is execrated.

AT Arcachon, near Bordeaux, a number of old imperialists have settled for the present. Among them are MM. de la Gueronniere, Haussmann and De Parieu. M. de Forcade la Roquette, who was there also, has, by order of the Prefect, left France, and is now at St. Sebastian, in Spain.

THE telegraph offices will accept private messages for Paris for despatch by carrier pigeon at the rate of fifty cents per word. The message must be in French, and on purely personal and private matters. Telegraphic communication between Tours and Marseilles has been re-established.

THE TOTAL number of regular soldiers of the French army who have been captured by the Prussian forces is stated at 250,000; and the French losses by death in action and by disease are 82,000. In these numbers about 12,000 were officers. The Prussians are also said to have captured 3,500 field pieces and 35,000 horses.

THE State of Hesse-Darmstadt, which has just entered the North German Confederation, has an area of 2,866 square miles, and a population of 810,302. Ludwig III., the present Grand Duke, ascended the throne in 1848. His sister is Empress of Russia. The standing army of Hesse-Darmstadt numbers about 12,000 men.

SOME one connected with the English mission in Madagascar has found some gold ore, and presented it to the Prime Minister, who, however, is reported to be anything but gratified with the discovery, apprehending, and probably not without reason, "a rush" of foreigners, who will quickly get the better of the Madagascars.

A STATE official in New Zealand who had the handling of the money, recently put all the scrip in his pocket and left for other parts. This step is purely American, but the next isn't. They pursued and caught him, had a trial, and the fellow was given one hundred lashes, branded on the shoulder and sent to prison for ten years.

THE North German Correspondent says: Among the latest offerings for the relief of sick and wounded soldiers are included—1,000 thalers from Prince Charles of Roumania; 15,000 thlrs. from New York; 675 thlrs. from Virginia, Nevada; 10,500 thlrs. from Port Elizabeth, Cape of Good Hope; 1,687 thlrs. from Calcutta (third contribution).

INTELLIGENCE received at Hull leaves little doubt that the iron steamer Pluto, of 1,013 tuns burthen, which left Hull for Trieste on the 17th of October, has been lost, with her crew of about twenty-five hands. The Geneva, 998 tuns, which left the Mersey on the 8th of October for St. John, N. B., is also believed to have been lost, with all hands.

THE death is announced of George Oxley, an in-pensioner of the Royal Hospital at Chelsea, who served in the St. Helena Artillery, and had charge of a signal station on that island during the time the Emperor Napoleon I. was confined there, his duties being to signal to the authorities whenever the Emperor left or returned to his residence.

MEGY, who was tried and condemned a few months since to the galleys for killing a police officer who sought to arrest him on a charge of conspiring against the life of the Emperor, but who, upon the proclamation of the republic, obtained his release from prison, has just been arrested in Paris for having struck the superior officer in the National Guard.

IN Paris, on the 27th ultimo, according to German information, a monster tent was erected in the Place du Pantheon for the purpose of enlisting volunteers in the National Guards. A large black flag was hoisted over it, bearing the words: "Strasburg, Toul, Chateaudun." There was also an inscription: "1792. Citizens! the country is in danger. 1870."

THE Prussian medical staff at Metz complain, do what they will, they cannot break the French convalescents of their craving for horseflesh. They will eat it, notwithstanding that they are receiving rations of mutton. The doctors oppose their eating horseflesh because they think that the entire change of diet will operate as much as anything in effecting a cure.

A GERMAN writing from Metz says: "Let nobody expect to win the sympathies of these people for generations to come. They hate us more intensely than the French population proper, and if Metz remains German, only an iron rule will be possible here. Every forbearance and mildness would be misunderstood, and good deeds would fall on stony ground."

A CORRESPONDENT of the London News writes that a translation of the "Captain with his Whiskers" is very popular in the German armies, and adds that the "Captain with his Whiskers" is merely a vulgarized version of an excellent ditty of the old French war, and that the melody is borrowed from the famous Blucher song, "Was blasen die Trompeten, Husaren heraus."

THE wife of a manufacturer in an inland town, whose daughter was about to be married, sent notice to her friends requesting that if they intended to make wedding presents of silverware, they would send the money instead, as she was about to visit New York, and would prefer to buy the articles herself, "for it will be so nice to have the things match, you know."

AT Punzig, near Insbruck, in the Tyrol, has just died Anton Thorwald, at the age of 107 years. His life had been an adventurous one. He was a captain of Jagers and the Adjutant of Hofer in the disturbance of 1809; and was imprisoned with him at Mantua, but escaped. A title of patents and nobility were offered him, but were refused. He had received no fewer than twenty-nine orders or decorations.

A ROGUE lately gave a waiter at a well-known cafe in Brussels a ten franc piece. The waiter very correctly pronounced it bad. "Let me see it again," said the fellow; then examining it carefully, he exclaimed in a loud voice, as he put it back in the waiter's hand, "Observe the date, 1812; do you really suppose that if it was bad they wouldn't have found it out by this time?" and promptly departed, leaving the astonished garcon piece in hand.

THERE were rare junketings in the Pitti palace, Florence, after the fall of Rome. The prettiest part of the whole affair was the lovely Princess Margaret, who wore a gown of that thick, dull silk, called faille white, embroidered with gold; around her throat was a necklace, the finest Oriental pearls and of the rarest beauty; on her bonny fair brown hair was the golden crown the Romans gave her as a wedding gift two years ago last spring.

THERE has been a discussion in England as to the value of acorns as food for cattle. Some persons say that they are poisonous, while others estimate the acorn crop in that country this year as worth more than a million sterling. The fact seems to be that acorns, dry and ripe, are very valuable food for swine and sheep, if taken in moderation, but that cattle permitted to roam about a park and gorge themselves with them will probably die of indigestion.

THE Alice Hospital at Darmstadt, devoted to the treatment of soldiers suffering from internal diseases, is under the protection of the Princess Alice, and has been established by the English Society for the Sick and Wounded in the War. The Hesse government granted the necessary accommodations, and there are usually about eighty patients, mostly suffering from typhus and dysentery. The Crown Princess visited the hospital on the 21st ultimo, and inspected the wards and the whole of the domestic arrangements. Some ladies belonging to the Alice Verein manage the household arrangement, and the nurses of that society attend on the patients.

THE WEST.

NEBRASKA is expending $300,000 on a State Prison and $150,000 on a State University.

THE shortest name on the roll of newly elected Legislature of New Mexico is Alphonso Ferdinand Senay Gracia Francisco Antonio Cortes Maria Gonsalvo Diego Juarez Mestes.

...man on the spot. The wound inflicted was a severe one, but at last accounts the young man was still living. Mr. C. surrendered himself to the autorities, and was admitted to bail in the sum of $5,000."

A STRANGE case of insanity was recently developed at Chicago. A young mother was found closely wraped in bed-clothes fervently praying for deliverance from the world, after having fasted for several days.

WATER was reached on Friday in the artesian well on the river bank at Terre Haute. It closely resembles the celebrated "Blue Lick" water in every respect, and is flowing in apparently inexhaustible quantity.

A POSEY COUNTY, Indiana, man was refused a divorce from his wife, so he took the matter in his own hands, and convinced her that it was not necessary to extinguish a kerosene lamp before she filled it. He is now a widower.

MR. SMITH, of Goodhue, Minnesota, harvested a second growth of barley this season from a fifteen acre field, the yield amounting to 150 bushels. It grew in the stubble, without cultivation, from the grain scattered at harvest.

THE CASE of Wm. Manley vs. The Indianapolis & St. Louis Railroad Company, being an action brought to recover $25,000 damages for injuries sustained by him in a railroad accident some years ago, came up in the St. Clair Circuit Court last week. The jury awarded Mr. Manley a verdict for $2,000.

BRIGHAM YOUNG recently delivered a long discourse to his faithful flock on tea, coffee and tobacco, quoting the "Word of Wisdom" which prohibits their use. He says the Lord declares "hot drinks not good for the body or the belly," liquor only good for bathing, and tobacco for sick cows and for cleaning sores.

IN IOWA a young man named Conway escaped from the Marion County jail, where he was confined for larceny. The Sheriff went after him, and called at the boy's father's, three miles out from Knoxville. Conway, Sr., said the boy was not there, but if he came he would bring him to the Sheriff next day, and he did.

THEY have just had a very successful baby show at Oskaloosa, Iowa. The babies were divided into three classes, two for whites and one for colored. The mother of the successful black child received a gold-lined silver goblet. The first prize, a $40 baby carriage, was given to a poor mother who had been in the State a few weeks.

IN building a coffer dam for the bridge at Keokuk, the contractors were surprised that all their pumping amounted to nothing. On investigation, they found that a spring of cold water came bubbling up from the bottom of the river, faster than they were able to pump it out. All their ingenuity has not yet been sufficient to overcome the unexpected obstacle.

THE Muncie Times says: Volney Wilson says he played strategy on the potato-bugs this season. He says he planted a grain of corn in every hill of potatoes. The corn beat the potatoes up, and the bugs, thinking it a cornfield, never went near the potatoes till it was too late to do them any damage, and he raised over four hundred bushels of nice potatoes.

A MADMAN entered a house at Lake View, Ill., the other night, and made a stirring impromptu discourse, in which he exhorted the inmates to fly to Heaven with all possible haste, in order to save themselves from impending doom. He then proceeded to assist them out of the world, and had injured several very seriously before he was driven from the premises.

The Evansville Journal says: "Mr. Samuel Vickery, who has recently made a trip through the surrounding country, represents the fall wheat as in splendid condition, not an acre between this city and Vincennes but what looks as good as ever was seen. Mr. Vickery also reports that farmers find their expectations of the corn crop more than realized in the gathering of that grain."

AT Morrison, Ill., on Monday evening, a rock almost two feet long and one foot in thickness was removed from the wall on the west side of the jail and four of the convicts got out, but, being immediately discovered, three went back to avoid being fired at. The fourth, George Smith, who stabbed Fry in Sterling a month ago, managed to secret himself in the woods and has not been heard of since.

THE Richmond Radical says: "The marked resemblance between Mr. Wulf Fries, the performer on the violincelo of the Boston Quintette Club, and Hon. George W. Julian, was noticed by many on his former visit, and is as noticeable as ever. It was almost ludicrous to see the very counterpart of our M. C. performing 'in public on the stage' on a 'big fiddle!' The same figure, physiognomy, attitude and even expression. It was indeed wonderful."

A DARING robbery was perpetrated near Lewistown, Ill. on Saturday week. John Ackerson had sold his pork for $900, taking the money home with him. Shortly after dark three disguised men appeared at Ackerson's house and demanded entrance, and, on being refused, broke the door down. They then demanded the money, with threats of personal violence if it was not forthcoming. The money was forked over, and the robbers went their way.

THE Indiana State Geologist has received some more Indian relics, consisting of stone knives and hatchet, and a large pipe made of clay and muscle shells, by the "Mound Builders," a pre-historic people. The pipe still retains the odor of tobacco, although it never has been used by a civilized man. The relics were found on a farm near Newburg, Warrick county, and were sent to Professor Cox by Mr. A. C. Bates, of Newburg, who has a number of other curiosities which would look well in the State cabinet.

A UTAH correspondent of the Chicago Tribune furnishes some interesting facts about the mines in that Territory. He says that the Emma Mine, at Little Cotton Wood, has been producing twenty tons of ore per day, the net value of which is $2,500, while ten tons of ore taken from the lode at East Canon, produced, clear of all expenses, $6,164 40, gold. At Meadow Valley, with very inadequate milling facilities, from five to ten tons of silver bullion per month are produced, at a net value of $30,000 worth of solid dust during the past three or four years.

REPORTS from the islands of St. Paul and St. George, Alaska, state that up to October 10, about thirty thousand seals had been captured, and that four thousand more would be taken before the close of the season. The captures, however, are falling off in consequence of the seals leaving the islands. The Alaska Fur Seal Company, it is announced, is endeavoring to obtain control of Copper Island and Behring Islands, which are frequented by seals, and now belong to Russia. Two agents of the company, it is stated, are in St. Petersburg engaged in negotiating for the possession of the islands.

THE Lafayette Courier says: A little girl, four years old, daughter of Charles Curtis, the well known drayman, is said to be a great musical curiosity. When the child was but three years old she could sing very sweetly, and play a number of tunes on the piano. She could play on the accordeon or melodeon with ease. Now she plays over fifty pieces of music, and has already composed a few. Those who have heard the child play say that it is really wonderful. She frequently hears a new piece played when she is from home, and will sit down and play the same tune which she heard. Sometimes she will not play the piece for days after she heard it.

AN enterprising settler in Nebraska, who had an eye to the future, gives the following account of his doings in that region: "I am planting one hundred acres with walnuts; what will they be worth in twenty years? Each acre will have at least 650 trees, making 65,000 in all. For lumber, ties, fence-posts or fuel, $3 a tree may certainly be called a very small figure, which will give nearly two hundred thousand dollars. Can anything be planted on the same land which will pay as large a return? And all the labor required is breaking up the land and planting. What is said of the walnut is equally true of the pine, which in fifty years will be 100 feet high and three in diameter."

THE Winona Republican of a recent date says: "There arrived in this city, yesterday, a soldier who has been twenty-seven years in the United States service. He got away, a few weeks ago, from the 'greasers' in Mexico, and bears the marks of many bullets to testify to his hair breadth escapes. He walked all the way to Washington, all the way from there here on his route to Minneapolis, his home. He carries a letter from General Thomas, besides a big scar on his head, where he came near being scalped; two fingers are gone from his left hand; four or five bullets are still remaining around under his skin, and three are exhibited that were extracted from body. The others are too dangerous to touch—one behind his ear; one near the abdomen, a five-ounce-and-a-half bullet; one in his left side; and two doing well in the legs—a pretty rough legacy. He is obliged to walk, because the motion of boats or cars brings on hemorrhage. The name of this hero is Winstone S. Ward."

THERE are now in active service on the borders of Texas eleven companies of mounted men, making an aggregate of 836 officers and men. These companies are stationed at the most exposed points, the mountain gaps and passes, where the savages seek entrance to the settlements.

OIL NEWS.

Coal City, and Foster—The Oil Wells—Production—Pittsburghers Engaged in the Oil Business, etc., etc.

[Special Correspondence Pittsburgh Gazette.]

FOSTER, Nov. 28, 1870.

According to promise I send you the following description and statistics of the Oil fields of Coal City and Foster, Rockland township, Venango Co., Pa., (generally called Foster.) Coal City is situated on the east side of the Allegheny river, and Foster on the west side One hundred and fifteen miles by Allegheny Valley railroad from Pittsburgh, and eight miles by A. V. R. R. below Franklin, Pa. Several stores, P. & A. Telegraph office, A. V. R. R. office, one hotel, several boardinghouses, etc. etc., constitute the city of Coal City. There are two distinct oil belts that cross the river at this point, running nearly due north and south. They are a half a mile apart and six hundred feet in width and are called respectively "Lewis or upper belt," and "Phila. & Boston or lower belt." The third sand oil being struck, is from eighteen to twenty-two feet in thickness. The depth of the wells along the river is from six hundred to six hundred and twenty feet and one thousand to one thousand and fifty feet back on the hills. The following are the principal operators: On the upper belt (east side of the river) Dunkirk Creek and Venango Centre Petroleum Company Bousell and Co., Thos. McDonough, R. Sloan; and on the west side of the river, Foster Farm Oil Co., Wm. Crawford & Co., J. B. Barbour & Co. On the lower belt, east side of the river, Philadelphia and Boston Petroleum Co., Bartlett Oil Co., Prentice, Angle, Whitney & Co; west side of the river, L. Jones, H. A. Crawford & Co. Connected with the above companies and firms are the following well-known business men of Pittsburgh: Capt. J. T. Stockdale, Capt. Jas. Wilkins, Jno. Benn, F. A. Bates, J. B. Barbour, R. H. Palmer and P. Hutchinson. The developments have heretofore chiefly been confined to the river banks and the side of the hills till within the last few months; since then Messrs. Prentice, Angle, Whitney & Co. have opened up a large tract of undeveloped territory on the lower belt, on the east side of the river, for a mile back from the river, which has made quite an excitement and made business lively in general. Messrs. P., A., W. & Co. have at present one one-hundred barrel well, one seventy-five barrel and two small wells, three wells partly down, and four more rigs up, that will be ready to start to drill within a few days. There are at present thirteen new wells going down in this district. The daily production of both belts is five hundred and thirty barrels.

There is very little oil on hand at the wells at present. The total amount of tankage here is thirty thousand barrels—twelve of iron and eighteen of wood. The oil market reports of the GAZETTE are always looked for and sought after more than those of any other Pittsburgh paper, and on arrival of the cars the train boys have no trouble in disposing of all the GAZETTES they bring up.

Yours respectfully,

FOSTER.

The Armstrong Republican notes that oil was struck at or near Worthington, seven miles from Kittanning, on Wednesday last, at a depth of thirteen hundred feet. The oil was thrown as high as the derrick while drilling was going on. This well is owned by Peter Graff, Esq., Dr. Maxwell and others, and is in entirely new territory, and will no doubt cause considerable excitement in the neighborhood and among all operators.

A Rouseville correspondent of the Titusville Herald writes:

The development on adjacent territory continues profitable and encouraging to Rouseville interests, and that we are on the largest "belt" yet discovered has been more than demonstrated by continued successes. Mitchell well No. 7, Shaw farm, after pumping about three weeks at the average of ten to twelve barrels per day, succumbed to the coaxing influence of a Roberts-Saunders fire cracker day before yesterday, and now relieves itself of from 150 to 200 barrels per day, all of which is, of course, exceedingly gratifying to its owner.

The Turbell & Hess well adjoining, submitted to a similar process, was improved in production, but not to any such alarming extent. All the wells so far in process of drilling eastward from this territory for across the "Pike") promise from depth of "sand" and general indications to prove successes and profitable investments. These developments are being closely watched by interested outsiders, as well as owners, who will doubtless continue so long as the lamp holds out to burn.

AN excellent enamel, according to Duchemon, is prepared from a mixture of thirty parts, by weight, of saltpetre, ninety parts of silicic acid (five sands of infusorial earth,) and two hundred and fifty parts of litharge. Drawings can be made up from this enamel, as upon paper, and the characters can be burnt in by means of a muffle in less than a minute. This enamel, applied to a viscous glass, is recommended for plant labels, guide boards, numbers of houses, etc., and it can be employed in the preparation of photographs, without the use of collodion. For this purpose, a mixture of ten parts of gum, one part of honey, and three parts of bichromate of potash, properly filtered, is to be dried upon the enamel and then exposed to the camera, after which the image is developed by dusting over it a powder consisting of ten parts, by weight, of the oxide of cobalt, ninety parts of finely pulverized iron scales, one hundred parts of red lead, and thirty parts of sand, and the chromate is decomposed by immersion in a slightly acidulated bath (one hundred parts of water and five of hydrochloric acid). After washing and drying, the enamel is to be melted by placing it upon a piece of sheet iron carefully cleansed and coated with chalk, for which a minute will suffice, and the photograph glazed upon the enamel is then brought to view.

IN the course of some experiments by Mr. O'Neill upon cottons, he ascertained that the average length of the staple of Sea Island cotton amounted to nearly two inches, while that of Surat was little over one inch. The tensile strength of this cotton is, however, much inferior to that of many other qualities, breaking with eighty-three grains, while Pernambuco cotton and Surat cotton sustained a weight of one hundred and forty grains. It is said that the amount of twisting in cotton thread is a very important element in the estimate of its strength, and that the Dacca muslins of India owe much of their superiority in lightness and strength to the tightness of the twist of the delicate filaments of which they are composed. According to Dr. Watson, the average number of twists per inch in a French muslin is sixty-eight, in an English fifty-six, and in a Dacca they amount to one hundred and ten. Some idea of the lightness of this Dacca muslin may be inferred from the fact, that a piece of it one yard wide and ten yards and a half long, weighed only a little over three ounces! This, as an article for summer wear, would probably be quite equal to the ancient Greek fabric, poetically termed "woven wind" by the writers of that county.

SCIENTIFIC men, upon the ground that it furnishes the physical system with rich supplies of pure blood, and a warm covering of adipose matter, recommend the use of Pier, Dannals & Co.'s cream ale.

☞ PROFESSIONAL NOTICE. Drs. Jordan & Davieson, Principals of the Institution of Anatomy, 807 Chestnut street, Philadelphia, Lecturers on Anatomy, Physiology and Science, inform their friends and patients that they have opened a Branch Office for the practice of their profession at 198 PENN STREET, Pittsburgh, Pa., where one may be confidentially consulted for a limited period, more especially in all those cases of diseases and debility, for the treatment of which they are so justly celebrated. It is too well known that hundreds, nay thousands, suffer from the effects of early indiscretion, and seek in vain for relief. For none but the educated Physician, who has made these subjects a specialty is likely to succeed in restoring the patient to health and strength.

To all such, Drs. JORDAN and DAVIESON offer certain and speedy relief, and undertake no cases but those in which they are able to guarantee a safe, certain, and permanent cure. Their important Medical Work may be had from their office, 198 Penn street, on receipt of 25c.; and also as usual from their head establishment, 1025 Filbert street, Philadelphia. Hours of consultation, from 10 A. M. till 2 P. M., and from 5 P. M. till 8 P. M.

Every case is strictly confidential. no30:167

THE DAILY GAZETTE.
OFFICIAL PAPER
Of Pittsburgh, Allegheny City and Allegheny County.
GAZETTE BUILDING:
Corner of Sixth Avenue and Smithfield Street.
WEDNESDAY, NOV. 30, 1870.

BONDS at Frankfort 96¼.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 111¼.

THE Post of yesterday crows over the appointment of Snowden and Keenan, and says it was done to snub John Covode. We don't believe a word of it. It was done because Judge Thompson wanted Snowden and Keenan to help him through for Governor, and the Republican Judge that voted with him, was so blind that he could'nt see it. Had the term for which this Judge, who sold out his party, been three instead of fifteen years, neither Mr. Snowden or Keenan would to-day be in their positions, and they know it. The Republicans not only of Philadelphia city and Allegheny county, but all over the State feel they have been badly treated.

DELAWARE.

The little State of Delaware steadily increases her Republican vote. We append a table showing the increase from 1856 to 1870:

1856	308
1860	3,815
1864	8,166
1868	9,348
1870	9,980
Gain since 1856	9,672

One of the accompaniments of its present Democratic condition is the whipping post. The pillory alone, might be passed by, but it is simply wonderful how any State professing to have any approximation towards civilization should continue this brutal and barbarous punishment. On Saturday last, at New Castle, Delaware, three culprits were stripped and lashed. The officer inflicting the punishment seemed to have some compunctions of conscience over his brutal work, but the bystanders compelled him to perform the duties of his office. When that State becomes Republican, this degrading, heartless scene will be of the past, and be wiped from the statute books forever. The penalty is nothing but a relic of barbarism and should have been done away with long ago.

ENGLAND AND RUSSIA.

By telegram of the 29th, we learn that the English Cabinet had resolved not to agree to a conference on the Prussian question, unless the Czar first withdraws his note. This comes from London, and would seem flat contradiction of the telegram from Versailles, stating that London had been agreed upon as the locality for holding the conference. It is said, however, that Prussia will not withdraw the note. We can scarcely believe that England, under her present circumstances, with her Cabinet divided, and the peace party in the ascendency, would make any such requirement of Russia, but would gladly avail herself of the opportunity to get out of her present very grave difficulties. It is further asserted that the Queen will accept Granville's resignation. This is simply unaccountable. Bright withdraws because his efforts to secure peace were failures, and Granville is relieved for the very opposite reason. There is, however, too much "coinage of men's minds" in the telegrams to make them reliable. All we can gather from them with any degree of certainty is, that England is in all probability very anxious to avoid war, and perhaps blustering while trembling over the results of her endeavors to secure the amicable adjustment of the difficulty by a conference. We have no official statement of what her Cabinet is doing, nor any proof that the telegrams are authorized or true.

JUVENILE IMMIGRATION.

One of the features of the Immigration Convention deserves especial notice. The Rev. Father Nugent, of Liverpool waited upon some of the officers of the Convention to ascertain if he could gain the co-operation of the Convention in establishing a system of juvenile immigration. He is Chaplain of one of the largest prisons in England, and his position has given him a practical knowledge of the causes which lead to crime. He was instrumental in establishing a Refuge and Night Asylum for destitute boys and in the year 1867 alone, 2,912 nights lodgings, and 40,205 suppers were given these waifs. He proposes the transportation of as many as possible of these children to the larger field of America.

The idea is a kind one, and no doubt originated with the best of motives, but we cannot endorse the proposition, and hope the Convention will not entertain it. If no other reason existed, the Convention has no power to act in the premises; and if it had, we doubt the wisdom of making the United States an asylum for them under the peculiar circumstances of the case. While we throw open the doors for all to enter, it is certainly not a wise plan to give a preference to these little fellows, who are brought into notice only through crime. We pity them and feel for their utter want and misery, but have no notion of placing Father Nugent, or any other man, as sole authority in England to ship off as many of these little fellows as his wisdom may be inclined to do. The idea no doubt arose out of the best motives, but it is not one that in any view is acceptable.

THE REVENUE REPORT.

The report of Commissioner Delano, made from the Internal Revenue Office, is full of interest. He states that the estimate, submitted in his annual report of 1869 of the probable receipts from Internal Revenue resources, exclusive of the direct tax on lands, and the duty upon the circulation and deposits of National Banks for the fiscal year 1870, has been more than realized. His estimate was $175,000,000, and the aggregate receipts are shown to be $185,235,867.97, an excess of $10,235,867.97. The total receipts for the fiscal year 1869 were $160,039,344.29; showing a net gain in 1870 of $25,196,523.68. He recommends the discontinuance of the employment of spies and informers, and of the policy of paying moieties. The Commissioner earnestly opposes any change in the law taxing spirits, and states that the experience of last year has served to strengthen his previous opinion in that respect. The receipts from this source are already $55,581,580.10.

Mr. Delano also gives the encouraging statement, that the receipts from all sources of Internal Revenue for the first eighteen months of the present Administration, compared with those of the last eighteen months of the late Administration, are increased to the amount of $40,673,661.69. This too in spite of our reduced taxation. In every statement yet presented to the public, the wise, sound, and economical policy of the Administration, has been demonstrated by dollars and cents, and can not be denied. The whole report of Mr. Delano is an able document, and well worthy of a most careful perusal.

OHIO RIVER BRIDGES.

A bad precedent once fairly established, is very difficult to get rid of. The Bridge Companies along the Ohio river, seem to consider that there is nothing more necessary for them to do, than to start the erection of some bridge, so low and improperly spanned that it will act as an actual obstruction to the navigation of the Ohio river. They can do this on a comparatively light capital. They are perfectly well aware, that a disturbance will very soon be raised, and the fight grow hotter [illegible], until when every body is [illegible] such a bridge would be ruinous to all commercial interests, the company quietly steps in, and levies a tax on river men, and the citizens of the cities that will be injured, and in this way build a good bridge at a very low cost for their own pockets. Some forty thousand dollars, we think, were levied by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad on Pittsburgh as the price for not obstructing the river. A gross outrage and one that ought never to have been submitted to. Now the Low Draw Bridge Company, taking ground on the precedent of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, calls on the citizens of Cincinnati to subscribe a sufficient amount to raise the bridge to the required height. If this plan is to be carried out, and any set of men be permitted to erect a structure over the Ohio river that they are well aware cannot under the law be raised, and then tax those who had no hand in their dishonesty, to help them build a better one, there is we think little use of any law upon the subject. The precedent is a bad one, as well as dishonest in the schemers and plotters, and no city should submit to having its legal rights violated, and then pay the violators for doing so.

THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE.

THE enterprise shown by the New York Tribune, in obtaining full and reliable news of the war in Europe, necessarily drove the Herald and the World to show an equal degree of enterprise in sending special correspondents to the seat of war. At first, our news all came through Tribune sources; but now, our telegraph columns are loaded with the speculations of the special correspondents of the World and the Herald.

We must say, however, the change is not for the better. These correspondents send news enough over the cable, such as it is. Of the quantity no one can complain; but of its quality, little that is good can be said. The sympathy of both these papers is with the French; and when the correspondents cannot find any good news to send, they avail themselves of their privilege and manufacture such tidings as they think will prove satisfactory to their employers.

What if they are found out at it! They have been found out, time and again, in sending false intelligence; but the public swallows all they send, whether true or false, and as long as there is a ready market for such wares, they will most surely be fabricated.

The exceedingly contradictory character of the foreign dispatches is thus accounted for. It is to the competition of rival presses to be first in the market with something, whether true or false, that we owe the fact that nearly every item of foreign news is contradicted by some other item sent from some other source.

Experience has shown thus far that the special foreign dispatches to the Tribune are mainly reliable, whilst those to the World and the Herald are as generally open to suspicion. The correspondents of the Tribune are men who carefully sift rumors and reports and who have learned to discriminate between the reliable and unreliable. The correspondents of the other two papers, on the contrary, catch greedily at every flying story and dress it up to suit the palates of their readers. It is always safe, therefore, in reading the foreign news, to suspect every statement coming from the correspondents of the Herald and the World, and to wait for confirmation from other sources before putting faith in any of them.

Editorially, we had long since to adopt a rule for ourselves—never to believe anything that came to us on the unsupported testimony of either of these two papers, and the rule is still a safe one for all. They may show a great deal of apparent enterprise in gathering up news, but, as a general rule, any item of intelligence appearing in either paper, and not appearing in any other, may be set down as false. In a very long experience this rule has seldom failed—so seldom that it becomes a safe one to follow; and if the careful reader of the foreign news will adopt it, and apply it constantly, he will probably be astonished to find reliability constantly proven by the test.

DUTY ON COAL.

A few days since we had occasion to call the attention of our readers to a speech of Colonel Eldridge, a Democratic candidate for Congress in Michigan, in which he said, what does the poor sewing woman in your city, shivering in her garret, care about the removal of the tariff from ipecac and belladona, when there is a tax of one dollar and a quarter on coal? In that article we showed plainly, as we believed, that at the time the Colonel was delivering his eloquent speech, his poor sewing woman was actually paying $2.97 less for coal per ton, than she had to pay in 1865, before the duty on coal was imposed. We inquired therefore, what these false "rhetorical flourishes" were worth, more than to mislead untrained minds, and induce them to believe that poor sewing women had this duty to pay, when in reality there was not one grain of truth in any such assertion.

The Chicago Tribune with a littleness, scarcely becoming a journal of its credit and reputation, singles out half a dozen lines of our article, and replies as follows:

Of course, the poor woman pays that tax of $1.25, in gold, per ton. Every article of clothing she wears, from her shawl to her hose and her corsets, is manufactured by machinery, which is run by coal, upon which that tax is paid. Every New England factory pays that tax directly on all the Nova Scotia coal it uses, or to the Pennsylvania Mining Company, of which it buys coal. That tax is part of the price of the coal, part of the expense of the factory, and is as much a part of the cost of production as is the wages of the operative. The poor sewing women, and all other women who use cotton or woolen clothing, boots and shoes, corsets, pins, needles, sewing cotton, or any other manufactured article, pays her share of this tax on coal, with a profit added.

It will be seen that there is not the most remote effort on the part of the Tribune to refute our statements demonstrated by figures, but in lieu thereof a mere mass of almost senseless assertions so palpably incorrect that we only wonder any one could spare the time to write them. In 1861, there was no premium on gold. In that year Nova Scotia coal sold in Boston at $4.67 per ton. Here is a fixed fact and a basis from which we all can start. The poor sewing woman, during that year at least, had no duty to pay on coal, in the increased price of her clothing manufactured by machinery run with coal. Now, if we take the price of coal in 1861, $4.67 per ton, and add to it 15 premium on gold, and $1.25 tax, the amount will reach $6.62 per ton. If the Chicago Tribune is right, then this is the amount that the poor sewing woman had to pay in 1870. But the Tribune is not right, nor had the woman to pay this amount. She paid in 1870 for Nova Scotia coal in Boston $6.00. This fact settles the matter so far as Nova Scotia coal is concerned. Nor can it be said that even this advance of 62 cents is owing to the tax on coal. For it will be seen, cutting aside the premium, there is in reality but an advance of 62 cents per ton. Since 1861, everything has increased in price, and Nova Scotia coal has been affected with all other merchantable commodities.

On the other hand while Nova Scotia coal sold at $4 67 per ton in 1861, and $6 per ton in 1870, Cumberland coal sold in Baltimore in 1870 at $4 60. Or, with gold at a premium of 15, Cumberland coal sold in Baltimore under a tariff of $1 25 at one cent per ton less than Nova Scotia coal sold in 1861, duty free, and when there was no premium on gold. We would like to know, therefore, how it is that the duty on coal has made the Colonel's shivering woman pay $1 25 more per ton, either directly or indirectly. How it affects the making of her hose, shawls, corsets, or of any of her garments. Would she not have been compelled to pay just as much in 1861, prior to the duty, so far as coal is concerned, as she is now? The manufacturer pays no more, nor nearly so much as he did in 1865. In that year he paid for Nova Scotia coal, without any duty, $9 60. But there was a premium on gold of 57. Deduct the amount of that premium from the price of 1865, and Nova Scotia coal sold in Boston in 1865 at $6 94 per ton, duty free and premium free. Ninety-four cents higher than it does in 1870 with gold at a premium of 15, and a duty of $1 25 per ton.

We took up the question of coal, because it was one common to every hearthstone. We did not dream that the eloquent Colonel believed that which he was trying to make his hearers believe. We regarded it as a species of clap-trap, to gain sympathy, for he could not possibly have touched on any subject barren of more good results for Free Trade, than the one of Coal. We were therefore somewhat astonished to find the Chicago Tribune baiting the trap, and scarcely yet believe but that it regards the effort of the Colonel as an excellent joke, that it desires to keep up. We submit, however, that when it quotes the GAZETTE, it should not so mutilate the article as to make the quotation read as weak and senseless as the reply.

BRIEF TOPICS.

A FRIEND IN NEED.

The following matrimonial advertisement appears in a journal of Rhenish Prussia: "The true female friend of a Catholic lady who, from family circumstances, has remained unmarried up to her thirty-sixth year, calls attention to the lady in question. She combines with a handsome and youthful personal appearance strong and blooming health, and an admirably cultivated mind and heart. She belongs to a very good family, and possesses, besides, a capital of 15,000 thalers. For the moment she is without opportunities of forming for herself suitable acquaintance. Gentlemen of answerable age and character, possessed of secured means of existence, great solidity and high consideration, are therefore invited to offer their hands in alliance on the prospect of a happy union. Belonging to the Catholic confession is much wished for, but is not made a condition. Photograph indispensable."

WHOLESALE MURDER.

A whole family of five persons have been murdered by two drunken men at Potosi, Mo. The ruffians called at the cabin of David Lapine, and a difficulty arose between Armstrong, Jolly, and a sister of Mrs. Lapine. Mr. Lapine interfered to quiet the disturbance, when Jolly drew a revolver and shot the old man four times, killing him instantly. Jolly then turned upon Mrs. Lapine, knocked her down with his fist, and then shot and killed her. Armstrong, in the meantime, had procured an axe, with which he knocked down Mrs. Lapine's sister, and then completely severed the heads of all from their bodies. The two children were also murdered. The men then fired the cabin and burned it to the ground, the butchered bodies in it. The murderers have not been captured.

LORN.

Mr. Edmund Yates, in a London contemporary, describes the appearance of the Marquis of Lorn on the occasion of his taking his seat in the House of Commons. It may not be uninteresting to some of our readers: "He looked," says Mr. Yates, "so very young, and seemed determined to look so very old; complexion delicate and pink; finely cut feminine features; a slight red mustache his only facial adornment; genuine Rufus locks, small ears, hands and feet; a light, spring step; head high in the air, and a gait which expressed generally a full consciousness of the rights and titles and belongings of the Dukedom of Argyll—such was the Marquis of Lorn, as he appeared to me from the speaker's gallery. Let me add that he is widely popular in his own set, and that one hears on all sides his is a fine nature, and one which will be improved by time, like generous wine."

A CUMULATIVE VOTE.

The School Board at Manchester, England, was recently elected upon the principle of cumulative voting, that is—fifteen members were to be chosen, and each elector could give one vote to each one of fifteen persons, or could cast fifteen votes for one person, or could distribute his votes among any number of persons less than fifteen. The result of the election was as follows: Forty candidates in all were voted for, and the fifteen chosen rank thus: Church of England men, six; Wesleyan Methodists, two; Catholics, two; Secularists, two; Presbyterian, one; Female, one; who is also a Secularist; Ragged School Advocate, one. The Catholics stood at the head of the poll, while the Secularists, or persons opposed to any kind of religious instruction in the schools, received the smallest number of votes cast for any successful candidate. The female is Miss Lydia Becker, who received 15,249 votes, out of 26,513.

A LOUISVILLE VETO.

The Mayor of Louisville, Kentucky, is nothing if not facetious. Some few weeks since an ordinance was passed by the Common Council of that city to protect ladies from the insults of street-corner loafers. After deliberating over the matter for a considerable time, the Mayor has vetoed the ordinance, for the following reasons: "If this ordinance were to be strictly enforced, all our adult male population would be liable to be sent to jail, and I am afraid not a few would have to be fined, while it is even possible that some of your honorable selves might be surprised to find yourselves victims to its sweeping prohibitions. * * It is not even unlikely that the ladies are not displeased at being observed by the gentlemen, though I would not have your honorable body understand me as confidently asserting this of our fair friends. For my part, I think there is nothing on earth more pleasing than a handsome, well-behaved woman, and the man that cannot appreciate and be grateful for such ought to be fined; but to fine a man for looking with admiration on the ladies is something I cannot approve of."

WILLIAM AND OTTO.

Some particulars about the daily life of the King of Prussia and Count Bismarck, at Versailles, are given in a letter from that town, dated October 25, which says: "The King of Prussia has taken the Prefecture for his residence. Generally on Thursdays and Saturdays the King goes out hunting, taking his departure in an open carriage with four horses, preceded by a platoon of dragoons galloping two hundred metres in advance as scouts. In the evening the game which has been killed is distributed among the troops of the Guard, with an exception of what is reserved for the King's table. Count Bismarck resides at the Impasse Montbeauron. I have only once seen him—in the park on an occasion when the band was playing. He never abandons his cuirassier's uniform except when he is in his working room, installed in the office of the Secretary General of the Prefecture. From 5 A. M., a light, which may be seen from a long distance, indicates that the Minister is at work; it is also about this time that shadows may be seen gliding along the walls and ringing the bell discreetly, after a fashion peculiar to the Minister's hotel."

AWAKING.

Since Commodore Perry broke open the front door of Japan the rulers of that country have opened their eyes. The latest significant illustration of Japanese progress, and of the decay of old traditions, is given in a piece of news received by the last mail—to the effect that the Home Minister has circulated throughout the Empire some translations of recent European works on the manufacture of silk. The Minister, in an accompanying circular, tells his people to remember the wisdom of the saying: "Fear posterity," and adds that it is impossible to affirm that the extreme limit of progress has been reached. This is a concession indeed; the outside barbarians have actually taught the Japanese something in the matter of making silk, a branch of manufacturing industry in which they supposed themselves to be exceptionally proficient—and a high officer of their Government is forced into an admission that this is perhaps only a small sample of the benefits derivable from free commercial intercourse. The Minister, too, goes a step farther, for he invites the native silk growers to send him essays on the causes and the cure of the silk worm disease; and, with shrewdness equal to that of the managers of a Yankee State Fair, promises that these papers shall be published, with the authors' names attached.

A RE-FORMATION.

The Canton, Illinois, Register of Nov. 18, says: "There lives in this city a young lady named Lizzie Twineham. Some years ago, when she was but a young girl she was attacked with an ulceration of the face, which entirely destroyed her nose, upper lip and nearly all the adjacent bones. By the time the ravages of the disease were arrested, she was the most hideous being that was ever gazed upon. Her eyes and forehead were visible, but in place of her nose and mouth there was but a large unsightly hole, in which the raw and purple flesh was visible away into the throat. None could look upon her without turning away in horror. Her parents were poor and she was compelled to leave home. She sought labor, as she was able and willing to work, but her presence was so disagreeable, on account of her terrible affliction that she could not obtain a situation. About four years ago she found herself out of employment, and with no home. She was advised to go to the poor house. Despair and wretchedness seemed to be her lot. Shunned as she was by society and abandoned by all, her sensitive nature was racked with torment and she seriously contemplated suicide. Just at this time a friend suggested to her that probably Dr. Wright, of this city, might be able to remedy her deformity and improve the appearance. With tears in her eyes and with but faint hope, she called upon him. At first the Doctor thought it was a hopeless case, but the despondent and despairing condition of the girl's mind induced him to take the case under serious consideration. He consulted with Dr. J. H. Rainey, dentist, in regard to the feasibility of supplying teeth and upper jaw which had been entirely eaten away. After examination, Dr. Rainey thought he would be able to supply the deficiency. Dr. Wright then determined to enter upon the work of making a new face for the young woman. The first business was to supply an upper lip. This was an exceedingly difficult and delicate operation. The disease had not only destroyed the lip, but it had resulted in the healing process, in connecting the cheek of each to the stub of the upper jaw bone in an unnatural manner. It was necessary to cut the flesh loose from the bone upon the inside. After this was done and the flesh healed, a piece of flesh was taken from the back part of the cheek and transplanted to form a lip. This was a most extraordinary operation, but was completely successful. The lip being formed, the next step was to supply the nose. This required several operations. A piece of flesh was taken from the forehead in such a manner as to scarcely leave a scar, and brought down and made to grow where the nose should be. Other pieces were taken from each cheek, and applied in the same manner. It was necessary that months should intervene between the operations, that the parts might become perfectly healed. The different operations were eminently successful, and the work is now complete. Dr. Rainey has supplied the teeth and a bridge for the nose, which holds it out in the natural manner. A stranger now meeting her would never imagine that she was once without nose or upper lip. She would pass in company without special observation on account of any deformity.

THE GRIEVANCES OF AMERICAN WOMEN.

Harper's Magazine says: "In no country, whether of ancient or modern time, have women had less to complain of in their treatment by man than in America. This is no rhetorical declamation; it is the simple statement of an undeniable fact. It is a matter of social history. Since the days of early colonial life to the present hour—or, in other words, during the last two hundred and fifty years—such has been the general course of things in this country. The hardest tasks have been taken by man, and a generous tenderness has been shown to women in many of the details of social life pervading all classes of society to a degree beyond what is customary even in the most civilized countries of Europe. Taking these two facts together—that certain abuses still exist, that certain laws and regulations need changing, and that, as a general rule, American women have thus far been treated by their countrymen with especial consideration, in a legal and in a social sense—the inference becomes perfectly plain. A formidable and very dangerous social revolution is not needed to correct remaining abuses. Any revolution aiming at upsetting the existing relations of the sexes—relations going back to the earliest records and traditions of the race—cannot be called less than formidable and dangerous. Let the women make full use of the influences already at their command, and all really needed changes may be effected by means both sure and safe—means already thoroughly tried. Let them use all the good sense, all the information, all the eloquence, and if they please, all the wit, at their command when talking over these abuses in society. Let them state their views, their needs, their demands, in conscientiously written papers. Let them appeal for aid to the best, the wisest, the most respected men of the country, and the result is certain. Choose any one real, existing abuse as a test of the honesty and the liberality of American men toward the women of the country, and we all know beforehand what shall be the result."

A DRESDEN JOKE.

An English paper tells the following with reference to the new open postal cards: "The Germans have their postal cards as well as we, and abuse the new institution in about the same manner. At Dresden a gentleman received a card some weeks ago, conveying the following message: 'I lost my purse yesterday at the Elbe baths, with three Napoleons in it. I dropped it close to the water-mark, where it must lie still. As you are a good diver, pray go bathing with me this evening at six.' The gentleman kept the appointment, and was surprised to see two or three postmen go into the baths just before him. Having undressed he went out to the platform, and there his astonishment increased; for, in spite of the unusual hour, there were numbers of men there, some of whom it needed not the sight of the post-office uniforms in the undressing rooms to proclaim post-office clerks, for they were well-known from the receiving counters. They all kept near the water-mark a place generally very little frequented, and took uncommonly long dives. The writer of the card was sitting at a little distance, evidently enjoying the sight. As the disappointed clerks returned from their aquatic search they found an inscription in chalk on the door: 'Strict secrecy observed with regard to all postal communications.' It was only then that they perceived that they had been made the butt of a joke."

A MYSTERIOUS SPY.

At Courcelles a few days since the Gardes Mobiles discovered a German spy on the top of a very tall house. He was a man in military uniform, holding a blue flag in one hand and a red flag in the other, and wearing in front of him a long apron painted dull red, with the narrow white markings to resemble the brick work of the neighboring chimneys, between which he was crouched. He had been observed waving the flags in question, and thus become the target of the Gardes Mobiles, all of whom, however, fired wide of their mark. In an instant he slid down the long slated roof, and, clinging to the stone cornice, had dropped into the iron balcony of the floor beneath and disappeared through one of the windows. The Gardes Mobiles at once obtained admission to the house—a very large one, with apparently all its apartments occupied—which they searched from top to botttom for upwards of an hour, without however encountering the smallest trace of the daring Prussian officer—for so he was pronounced to be—who had signalled to his comrades in a populous quarter of Paris in broad daylight.

GENEROUS ENEMIES.

"While we report the many outrages committed by the German troops in our country," writes a correspondent of the Echo du Nord, from near Metz, "we will not forget to notice it when they act in a humane manner. In this village, the village priest, a venerable, white-haired man, has been suffering from an incurable disease for a long time. Prussian officers were quartered in his house. I happened to be there when they came in. He showed them his empty purse with a blush. Alas! mine was as empty as his. He had neither food nor medicine, nor money nor medical assistance. The brave young fellows were touched by this sight, and, taking their purses out, emptied them on the bed of the old man. Soon afterward some good food and medicine stood by the bed of the old parson. The old man wept with joy and blessed his enemies, and tears came even into my eyes, when the young officers, Protestants as they were, bent their heads to receive the blessing of a Catholic priest."

A CAVALRY HORSE.

A young ensign of German cavalry, in the first battle of Orleans, was unhorsed by a sudden violent motion of his horse, which afterward darted off with lightning speed. He soon remounted another horse, but as it was a gray horse, it offered an uncomfortable aim to the French bullets. He was just reflecting on this, when the bugler sounded the signal for forming. He started for his accustomed place in the ranks, when he suddenly perceived his original riderless horse canter toward the place and wedge itself into line with the other horses. The overjoyed ensign now took possession of his steed again, and, examining him closely, he found that he had been struck by a bullet in the lips, which had caused him to act in so unusual a manner. As soon as the first pain had subsided, the faithful and intelligent animal had returned to its duty and its old master.

JONATHAN AND JOHN.

The New York Commercial Advertiser says: Our English cousins talk of sending John Bright to propitiate us in case of England's taking a hand in the coming fight. So, John, you really think our enmity might damage you. Well, perhaps you are right. There are some unsettled scores between us to justify this mistrust—Alabama claims, &c. But we are not a vindictive people, and would not take any mean advantage of your calamity. Blood is thicker than water, John, and with all your faults we cannot forget that from that blessed old British Constitution of yours our own liberty was drawn, and we would not complacently see it overthrown in the battle with leagued despotism. Your countryman, "Tom Brown of Rugby," warmed our hearts a good deal toward you, and if you will only pay that little Alabama bill, John, we will stand by you if the "worst comes to the worst," for you and we are one blood, and alone of all the nations of the globe, uphold to-day the banner of true civil liberty.

BY RAIL TO PARADISE.

It is stated that Messoud Bey, an educated Turkish nobleman, chief of staff to the Pacha of Bagdad, has been busily engaged in Europe this year in making financial and engineering arrangements for building a railroad along the line of the river Euphrates, so as to establish a rapid route between Europe and the East. Messoud Bey, it is reported, has already purchased in Bombay a fleet of flat bottom steamers from the Indus Flotilla Company, and these vessels are making regular trips between Bagdad and Bussorah, and connect with the British India Railroad. It is feared that the impending general war in Europe will interfere with the plans of the projector of this new route, but the prospects of the speedy completion of the Euphrates Valley Railroad are said to be encouraging, and it is anticipated that soon the passage from London to Bombay may be made in thirteen days.

A RARE PHENOMENON.

The Chicago Tribune says that a curious and very rare planetary position will occur on the 8th and 9th of next month, to which no attention has hitherto been called, and it seems to have escaped the notice of even the compilers of the Astronomical Ephemerides. For the space of two whole days and five hours the planet Venus will be behind the sun, as viewed from any part of the earth's surface. The planet is then on the further side of her orbit, and her relative motion is only 15¼ minutes of arc daily, while at the instant of conjunction she will be within 48 seconds of arc of the sun's centre. The bright planetrry spot will apparently touch the western edge of the sun at 11 o'clock, P. M., on the 6th of December, Chicago time, and emerge from behind the solar disc, on its eastern edge, at 4 o'clock on the morning of the 9th. The phenomena of immersion and emersion will not be visible at Chicago, the sun being below our horizon on both occasions, but the two bodies may be seen through the telescope as almost in contact late in the afternoon of the 6th and early in the morning of the 9th of December. The emersion will be visible in Europe. The phenomenon is about as rare as the transit of the same planet across the sun's disc, which occurs only once on the average of 57½ years. The next transit will occur in December, 1874.

THE ENERGY OF THE FEMININE.

The Pall Mall Gazette, in treating of the question whether mankind has physically degenerated, says, that it is impossible to read the columns of the daily journals without observing that women, young and old, are capable of deeds of daring, from which the nervous and stronger sex would shrink. As illustration of the above assertion, the Pall Mall Gazette cites the instance of the old lady, aged sixty-one, who recently jumped from an express train, while passing at full speed through a way station, and alighted on the platform without receiving any injury. Another case is given of an old lady, aged seventy, who had become bankrupt, and was possessed of a life interest in property, which, on her marriage, would go to her grandchildren: in order to prevent the life estate falling into the hands of the creditors, the old lady married a pauper of about her own age, so as to effect a forfeitnre, and thus by operation of law to transfer the property to her grandchildren. The creditors maintained that the marriage was collusive and fraudulent, but the Court of the Queen's Bench decided that the property passed to the grandchildren.

A DAY WITH TRUTH.

A citizen of Meriden, Conn., engaged in digging a well, was recently deserted by all hands on the day of the Meriden fire parade. Looking for assistance, he met a half-wit of the town, who agreed to help him, taking pay in cigars. They arrived at the well, which was already some forty feet deep, and the citizen was to go down and dig, while his assistant turned the windlass. Citizen got down about ten feet down when the notes of a brass band were heard. "I declare," says half-wit, "there's the music; I must go;" and, letting go the windlass, away he ran. Citizen speedily landed at the bottom of the well, unhurt, but badly demoralized. There he remained until late in the day, nobody going near the well, on account of the attractions in town. Finally, towards evening, a neighbor passing by, thinking he would look down and see how the work was progressing, found citizen and extricated him.

AN ANTIPODAL SWINDLE.

A deposit of gold and quartz recently supposed to have been discovered in Victoria, Australia, created much excitement. A company was formed, and the shares were rapidly taken and paid for. Further investigations, however, showed that the mine had been veneered with gold leaf, laid on with size or varnish. The projectors of the company have been arrested. It is considered extraordinary that the delusion could have lasted so long, as five minutes' examination of the spot by any person in the slightest degree skilled in mining, would have caused the detection of the swindle. The shares, however, were probably subscribed for by persons living far away from the supposed mine, and who paid out their money without even looking at the specimens.

SOME NOTES.

The Last English Book About Us.

An amiable Oxford collegian, Mr. John White, has just published in London a book on his American travels. It is called "Sketches from America." Mr. White happened to be at Chicago just as an excursion party of American editors was starting to examine the Union Pacific Railroad. He wisely joined them, and has given a very graphic and humorous description of their proceedings and the peculiarities of the regions visited. His companions, he tells us, had a very strong flavor of Hannibal Chollop about them generally; and any delinquencies in their performance of the character were amply made up by Mr. G. F. Train, who appears to have been both the leader and the buffoon of the party. The good taste and engaging manners of this gentleman are widely known, and they were curiously illustrated on one occasion when the editors were introduced to a party of noble savages. A chief, one Big Mouth, described as a really noble-looking man, made them an appropriate speech: after which Mr. Train took him off by uttering a stream of wild gibberish with grotesque gestures, to the intense disgust, as it appears, of the great Big Mouth itself. An Indian dance followed; and then Mr. Train "took off his coat, bent his tall body nearly double, and in that posture commenced capering round and round the circle, flinging out his legs in the most grotesque manner, and uttering yelps, barks, and howls, compared with which the Indian cries were notes at once quiet and melodious." Mr. White thinks that this performance, with the exception of the gibberish speech, "was quite the most offensive to Indians that human ingenuity could have devised." He admits, however, that even the Indians could not preserve their proverbial gravity, and as the noble chief was strongly suspected of having shortly before taken some white men's scalps, perhaps the editors did not care so much for his feelings.

Occasionally the mild Oxonian was delicately sold by his traveling companions, and a sight of a real live Ku-Klux kindly arranged for him. At a charming city called Julesburg, for example, he was introduced to a certain "Missouri Bill," who had committed three murders, as harsh moralists would call them on the preceding night "out of sheer irrepressible gaiety of heart." The gentleman who pointed him out gravely thought it likely that he would "be for shooting again" on that occasion also, and recommend Mr. White to come in later and "see some fun." Bill, however, seems to have restrained his playful temper on this occasion, and a day or two afterwards, as he was taking a drink with certain editors, went so far as to knock down a friend for firing his revolver twice at the editors as a protest against their inhospitality in not offering him dinner. Bill has evidently some sense of good manners; and Mr. White is careful to point out that "there are no more kind and more charitable and generous hearts; none gentler with women and children and the helpless; none more ready to guide and aid the stranger than those of these rough Western manslayers." Still, Mr. White opines, it is as well to be careful when you offer them a drink and do not ask them to dinner.

THE TELEGRAPH IN JAPAN.

Experiments by Order of the Mikado—Japanese Jokes Flash Through the Wires.

The Japan Weekly Mail contains an amusing account of the trial of a field telegraph lately presented by our Government to the Mikado. We extract the following:

"By the Mikado's desire the apparatus was erected in the grounds of the palace, one terminus being his Majesty's private study and the other the pleasure pavilion, which stands in the center of the Maple Gardens, where were assembled three princes of the blood, the Prime Minister and a host of members of the Privy Council to receive the answers of the Imperial messages. The working of the wires was intrusted to two Japanese, and when all was ready a message arrived at the pavilion announcing the presence of the Mikado at the terminus in the study. To this announcement a most respectful message was returned thanking his Majesty for his gracious presence. Shortly after the message came: 'The Emperor is highly pleased with the wonderful western invention,' and then immediately afterward, 'Who are in the pavilion, and what are you doing?' To this the answer was made, giving the name of those present, saying that they were awaiting with profound veneration his Majesty's gracious orders. To their intense embarrassment the answer was returned: 'Telegraph to us something amusing.' As may be imagined, this message caused the greatest consternation among the courtiers. How were they in a moment to conjure up anything that should be amusing, and at the same time, respectful. At length one Privy Councillor suggested: 'This day will be memorable in the annals of the Empire as that on which His Majesty for the first time witnessed the working of a telegraph.' But this was instantly rejected as being not in the least amusing. At last a youthful courtier proposed: 'We all mean to get merry on the wine which we expect your Majesty to give us.' This was at once received with delight and transmitted to the palace, and to it a reply was immediately returned that they should not expect in vain, and the proceedings terminated with a message from the Emperor expressing himself satisfied with the experiments, and thanking the officers who had worked the telegraph. At the Emperor's desire, the apparatus was left standing in the grounds, in order that he might learn to work it himself."

The Lungs and the Life.

The importance of the lungs to health of the human body are too well known to need much discoursing about. Every man knows when he gets a cough that unless it is cured it will fasten on the lungs and destroy life. What thousands of coughs and incipient consumptions could be cured by a timely resort to Dr. Keyser's Lung Cure, which not only heals the ulcers in the lungs but at the same time purifies and enriches the blood, and opens the obstructions which hinder the free action of the lungs! No better medicine for coughs and consumption is made by Dr. Keyser, of 167 Liberty street Pittsburgh. If your druggist does not keep it send five dollars to Dr. Keyser, and he will send four bottles securely boxed, by express, with full directions how to use it.

THE Lafayette Dispatch, of the 19th says: "While Charles Brown, an elderly gentleman, living on the old poor farm, a short distance north of Greenbush Cemetery, was assisting his sons to remove a load of fodder from a wagon, it capsized, throwing him violently to the ground, the force of the fall breaking his neck, some two inches below the nerve which supports the diaphragm and lungs. With the exception of the nerve above mentioned, there is no other communication with the body, below the ribs. He is in a very critical condition to-day, and cannot recover. After the physicians had left last evening, a number of neighbors who called in, upon finding the lower part of Mr. Brown's body cold and inanimate, and, not understanding the cause, applied extremely hot irons to his feet, with a view of producing a circulation of the blood. The irons set fire to the bed-clothing, which burned the old gentleman's feet almost to a crisp before it could be extinguished. The suffering man, although yet of sane mind felt no effects of the fire."

AN OLD FRIEND.

For many years the Press of the country has chronicled the beneficial effects of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Editors, authors, physicians, merchants, officers of the army and navy, chemists, counsellors, ministers of the gospel, in short, a great cloud of witnesses of every profession, trade and calling, have testified to its efficacy as a tonic and regulating medicine. The names and statements of these witnesses have been published in the public prints. Many of them are well known to the whole public. Their testimony has never been challenged or impugned. This has been tried and pronounced, on the authority of those whose lives and health it has preserved, a pure, harmless and eminently salutary preparation. Attempts have been made to rival it. They have failed. There is nothing equal to the enjoyment experienced by the afflicted when using this valuable specific. Its mild tone, its sure and vigorous action upon a disordered stomach, and the cleansing of the entire human body, recommend it to the whole community as a RELIABLE FRIEND.

The Bonds are issued at $20,000 per mile against the portion of the line fully completed and equipped.
The greater part of the road is already in operation, and the present earnings are largely in excess of the operating expenses and interest on the bonds. The balance of the work necessary to establish through connections, thereby shortening the distance between St. Paul and Chicago, 45 miles, and 90 miles to St. Louis, is rapidly progressing, in time for the movement of the coming grain crops, which, it is estimated will double the present income of the road.
The established character of this road, running as it does through the heart of the most thickly settled and richest portion of the great State of Iowa, together with the present advanced condition and large earnings, warrant us in unhesitatingly recommending these bonds to investors as, in every respect, an undoubted security. A small quantity of the issue only remains unsold, and when the enterprise is completed, which will be this Fall, an immediate advance over the subscription price may be looked for.
These bonds have 50 years to run, are convertible at the option of the holder into the stock of the Company at par, and the payment of the principal is provided for by a sinking fund. The convertibility privilege attached to these bonds cannot fail to cause them at an early day to command a market price considerably above par. U. S. Five-twenties, at present prices return only 4½ per cent. currency interest, while these Bonds pay 8⅛ per cent., and we regard them to be as safe and fully equal as a security to any Railroad Bond issued; and until they are placed upon the New York Stock Exchange, the rules of which require the Road to be completed, we obligate ourselves to rebuy at any time any of these Bonds sold by us at this date at the same price as realized by us on their sale.

MONEY AND COMMERCE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
TUESDAY, Nov. 29, 1870.

The loan market is active, but easy. There is less enquiry on the part of private lenders for paper, but good borrowers find little difficulty in getting a fair supply of money at reasonable rates.

The local stock market is without any feature of special interest.

Allegheny Valley 7-30 bonds are a fraction better, and we report sales of small lots at 90¼@90½. There is some talk upon the street about the stock with some lots offering, for which the parties assume to ask $30 per share. We can learn of no sales, and hear outside of no bids higher than 24.

We hear of sales of Allegheny Valley 7's (Mahoning extension bonds) being made in Philadelphia at 75.

Sales of Columbia oil stock are reported at 11@11¼, which, considering the product of the Company and the present and prospective price of oil we really consider an outside price, with refined oil at 22½ per gallon for the next three months, and sales of crude on the lower creek at $4.10 for 1872. We fail to see the profit in oil stocks, or where the "usual dividends" are to come from.

The New York market was active and higher during the day, but this evening closed at about the quotations of yesterday. Gold quiet at 111⅛. Governments inactive, but steady.

PITTSBURGH MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
TUESDAY, November 29, 1870.

Trade in general merchandise is fairly active and with an early resumption of navigation, of which the indications are very promising at this writing, a material improvement is almost certain. We can report a steady consumptive demand for all of the leading commodities, and a fair business in the aggregate, while in regard to values there are no important changes. The receipts of grain and country produce generally seem to be falling off somewhat, but stocks are fully up to the demand, as there is an almost total absence of anything like speculation.

APPLES—The receipts continue liberal and the supply is large, but with a steady demand, prices are maintained, $2.50@3 per bbl. for fair to prime—choice in small lots $3.25@3.50.

APPLE BUTTER—Sales at 60@75 cts per gallon, as to quality.

BUTTER—Continues to come in freely, and while the market is pretty well glutted, there is no change whatever to note in prices, 20@25 for common to fair; and 28@30 for prime to choice, and there is more inquiry for the latter than the former.

BEANS—Continue dull and the supply is constantly and rapidly increasing. We quote at $1.75@2.25 per bushel.

BUCKWHEAT FLOUR—Is dull and cannot be quoted above $3.25@3.50 per cwt.

BROOM CORN—Quoted at 5@7c.

CHEESE—Is quoted at 15@15½ for Western Reserve; 15@15½ for Ohio Factory and 16 for Ohio Goshen.

CRANBERRIES—Demand light, prices irregular and unchanged, ranging from $10@13 per bbl, according to quality and size of barrels.

CARBON OIL—Standard brands 21, in a jobbing way, 22@23 for small lots.

COAL—Sales of Anthracite at $9@9½ per ton by the car load, delivered.

CEMENT—Sales Louisville Hydraulic at $2@2¼, and Calcined Plaster at $2½ per bbl.

CIDER—Is dull and in good supply, but unchanged; $8@9 per bbl.

DRESSED HOGS—Dull and lower being quoted at 7½@8 cts.

DRIED FRUIT—Is dull though the supply in this market is comparatively small. Peaches at 8@9 for quarters, and 10@11½ for halves. Apples, 7@8c—sliced, 8@9c. Blackberries, 12@14 cents.

EGGS—The receipts of pickeled and limed eggs are large but strictly fresh are scarce. Limed may be quoted at 26@28, pickled 27@28, and strictly fresh at 31@32. There are but very few sales being made above 30, and as already intimated, it requires something gilt-edge to bring any more.

FEATHERS—Demand is improving but there is no change whatever in prices; No. 1 live geese, 83@85—in small lots, 85@86.

FLOUR—The market is quiet and unchanged; there is a steady consumptive demand, but aside from this there is little or nothing doing. We continue to quote western flours, in store, at $5.75@6.25 for spring wheat; $6@6.50 for red winter and $6.75@7 for white. Rye Flour $5.00@5.50 and dull.

GRAIN—The receipts of Wheat continue small, and the demand is rather better, though there is no change in prices; $1.15@1.20 for red, and $1.25@1.30 for white,—sale 600 bush choice white at $1.35. Oats steadier, in consequence of diminished receipts, though there is no improvement, as yet, in the demand and no change in prices; 44@45c paying, and 46@47c selling, for round lots—usual advance for small lots in store. There is a continued good demand for new corn, and we can report sales in store at 65@66c for ear, and 68@70c for shelled. Old may be quoted at 75@80c, and market almost bare. Rye is in rather better demand, and as the stock in this market is very small, and the receipts light, the feeling is rather firmer. Dealers are paying 80c, and furnishing sacks—sale 1,200 bush, to a distiller, at 85c, thirty days. Barley continues dull and weak, though without quotable change, 80@90 for spring, and 90@95 for fall, though it should be borne in mind that it requires to be choice to bring the outside quotations. Sales 3 cars fair Ohio spring at 85c.

GROCERIES—The grocery trade here is rather quiet and devoid of anything particularly new or important. Both the city and country demand has fallen off somewhat recently, and the general impression seems to be that there will be no improvement until after the close of the year, as operators generally are disposed to await the effect of the reduction in the tariff, which goes into effect at that time.

COFFEE.—From E. C. Small & Co's last circular we notice that for the past thirty days the demand for Coffee in Baltimore has been in excess of expectations, and it can be accounted for only by the liberal facilities offered to buyers in the principal cities of the interior, viz: by taking their purchases home in bond, contingent upon the reduction of duty at 2c per pound, on the 1st of January. Sales for the month have been in excess of the receipts, and the market closed a full quarter higher, prime grades continuing in active request.

Baltimore is fast regaining her former place in the Coffee trade, as will be seen by the following statement of imports and sales at that port since January 1st, 1870, and it is thought the amount will reach 500,000 bags before the close of the year:—

Imports since January 1, 1870	555,682	bags.
" same time last year	399,784	"
Sales since January 1, 1870	439,666	"
Sold during same time last year	394,355	"
Stock Rio in first hands:—
Baltimore	12,962	bags
New York	54,222	"
New Orleans	12,280	"
Savannah	1,000	"
Mobile	4,362	"
Galveston	8,400	"
Total stock in the United States	93,394	bags
" " same time last year	131,508	"

SUGAR AND MOLASSES.—Receipts of Louisiana Sugar and Molasses have been light, but, compared with several years previous, are increased, and two to four weeks earlier. The market would have been well supplied by this time had there been river communication admitting cheaper freights than are being paid by rail.

From Small & Co's. New Orleans circular of the 21st, we quote prices then current, the market closing dull:—Sugar, fair, 8¾c; fully fair, 9¼c; prime, 10@10½c; choice, 11@11¼c. Molasses, good, 60c; prime, 65c; choice, 68c.

Receipts to the 21st inst., at the port of New Orleans:—

Sugar	8,962	hhds
Molasses	23,711	bbls.
"	1,250	hf bls

The crop is larger and coming in earlier than was at first anticipated. Freights from New Orleans to this point—all rail, 80c per hundred lbs, and $4 per bbl for Molasses—river and rail 55c per hundred pounds.

SYRUPS AND REFINED SUGARS.—Some of the refineries having suspended operations and others preparing to do so, makes it difficult to say what their products will do. At present, however, Syrups are off considerably, but Sugars are held firmly, and, on account of the scarcity, consequent upon the suspension of work, may not recede. It would be almost safe to say, that there will be a slight advance in refined Sugars.

RICE.—A speculative feeling, with few arrivals, has caused an advance of fully 1c per lb. in Carolina; but towards the 1st of January, it will likely recede, as large stocks will then be sent to market from the abundant crop, which is estimated at 6,000 tierces over last year's production.

HAY—Sold from country wagons in Allegheny to-day at $12@19. We can report sales of 4 cars strictly prime baled at $17.

HONEY—Sales at 30@35 cts.

HOMINY—Quoted at $5.00@6.00 per bbl.

HUSKS—Sales at 3@3½ cts.

LIME—Sales of Cleveland at $2.25 per bbl and eastern at $1.75.

LARD OIL—No. 1 Extra, $1.14@1.15, and 90@92c for No. 2.

MILL FEED—Sales of middlings at $1.50@1.70, according to quality. Seconds may be quoted at $1.10@1.20.

ONIONS—Continue very dull and cannot be quoted above $3@3.50 per bbl.

PROVISIONS—The market for the hog product is very quiet and will remain so for a week or two to come, or until the new crop is out of smoke. A Chicago paper of Monday says: A great many people are disposed to think that both hogs and their product have touched bottom, but there are still willing sellers for the future at current quotations.

POULTRY—The stock is very much reduced, dealers generally having succeeded in working off their old stock on Saturday, and it is probable, owing to the recent glut and consequent low prices, that the receipts for some time to come will be light.

POTATOES—Sales of Prime Peach Blows at 95 on track and $1 in store. Sweets quoted steady at $4@4.50 per bbl.

SEEDS — Clover seed, in the absence of sales, may be quoted nominally at $6@6.25. Nothing doing in timothy seed. Flaxseed is in steady demand at $2.10@2.12, and little or none offering.

RAGS—Quoted at 4@4½c.

SALT—Is quoted at $1.60@1.65 by the car load, with the usual advance for small lots in store.

TALLOW—Rendered, at 8¼@8½c.

TURNIPS—Very dull and in good supply; may be quoted at 50@55c per bushel.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
TUESDAY, November 29, 1870.

The oil market was quiet to-day, the excitement which prevailed yesterday having subsided, somewhat, and while there is no quotable change in prices, the feeling was not so strong, and there were offers to sell at figures that could easily have been realized yesterday.

CRUDE.

Quiet and weak though unchanged. Spot or seller this month was offered at 9⅞; seller December, 9⅞; seller first half 1871, 9; buyer same time nominal at 10@10½. But a single sale reported, 500 bbls at 9⅞.

REFINED.

Also dull and weak with a drooping tendency, spot offered at 23; last half December, 22⅞; January and February 22⅞; January to March, 22⅞; January to June, 23⅛; April to June, 24. Sale 500 bbls March at 23.

WINE OF LIFE.—The great Blood Purifier and Delicious Drink, WARNER'S VINUM VITÆ, OR WINE OF LIFE, is free from any poisonous drugs or impurities, being prepared for those who require a stimulant. It is a splendid appetizer and tonic, and the finest thing in the world for purifying the blood. It is the most pleasant and delicious article ever offered to the public, far superior to brandy, whisky, wine bitters, or any other article. It is more healthy and cheaper. Both male and female, young or old, can take the Wine of Life. It is in fact, a life preserver. Those who wish to enjoy good health and a free flow of lively spirits, will do well to take the Wine of Life. It is different from anything ever before in use. It is sold by druggists; also at all respectable saloons. Price $1.00, in quart bottles. my9:d&wT

RIVER NEWS.

The river rose steadily all day yesterday, and was still swelling last evening with five feet ten inches in the channel. Both the Allegheny and Monongahela are reported rising at head waters, and hopes of a good navigable river from this point out are now confidently entertained. The weather continues cloudy and warm, with frequent showers of rain.

The W. F. Curtis, from Cincinnati, arrived, and the Julia No. 2, for Zanesville, departed.

The new steamer Oceanus commenced receiving freight for St. Louis yesterday, and she is announced to depart on Saturday next. Captain Cox intends to load to the water, and, therefore, passengers and shippers can rely on the Oceanus going through with dispatch.

Captain F. H. McCosh, an old Pittsburgher, but who for several years has been steamboating, between St. Louis and New Orleans, and Arkansas river, will have charge of the office of the Oceanus, and his assistant is Adam Jacobs, Jr.

The Brill, Capt. Dan Moore, is announced for Nashville, and will be the first boat out for that port. Capt. Moore, who has been west for some days, is expected back to-morrow.

Capt. R. C. Mason, recently of the Camelia, has a mountain boat under contract. He expects to have her completed in February next.

Capt. Abrams, Superintendent of the Brownsville packet Company, was in the city yesterday. He makes his headquarters at Brownsville. Capt. Adam Jacobs, Sr., President of the same Company, is also in town.

The Mollie Ebert, Capt. G. W. Ebert, is announced to depart for New Orleans to-morrow evening. She is only drawing about thirty inches at present, notwithstanding she has between two and three hundred tons of freight on board. Capt Ebert, and his clerk, Standish Peppard, are veteran steamboatmen, having been actively engaged in steamboating for upwards of thirty-five years.

The Messenger, Capt. Robt. Greenlee, is announced to depart for New Orleans on the present water. She has her cargo on board, consisting almost entirely of Pittsburgh manufactures, and will leave as soon as she can get ready. Mr. John Fisher is in charge of the office.

It is generally conceded that Capt. M. A. Cox has in the Oceanus, one of the finest and most complete stern-wheel boats that has ever been turned at Pittsburgh, and this is saying a good deal.

The mammoth H. H. Yeager is now ready to receive freight for New Orleans. She is a huge steamboat and no mistake.

According to our latest dispatches yesterday afternoon, the Allegheny was rising at Oil City with 81 inches in the channel at that point. It is reported that nearly all the streams emptying into the Monongahela are putting out pretty freely

Capt. S. B. Coulson, of the Far West, is in the city. The Far West is at Portland, waiting for water, en route from St. Louis to Pittsburgh.

The following named tow-boats will depart on the present water with tows of coal: Cincinnati, Wm. Stone, 80,000 bus.; Coal City, 150,000, Niagara, 110,000; Louisville—Samson No. 2, 120,000; Stella, 100,000 coal, 20,000 coke. Dart, 100,000. Should there be sufficient water, the above tows will be increased, and there will be additional departures.

The Glendale, Capt. Hare, with the veteran Capt. James Millen, in the office, is announced to depart for St. Louis forthwith.

—A Memphis telegram dated on Saturday says: The Silver Bow passed down for Red river very deep. While here she took fire in the hold. Amid ringing of bells and intense excitement her crowd of passengers of both sexes scampered ashore in great confusion. The fire was extinguished without injury to the boat or cargo. Eight and a half feet of water in the Mississippi river from Cario down, and ten feet below here.

—The St. Louis Democrat of Saturday says: The Collier begins loading this morning with 1,400 tons iron ore for Pittsburgh. She will have six barges, and make two trips to Cairo. Three of the barges to be loaded with ore for the Collier are for R. C. Gray, of Pittsburgh. Already there have been 2,500 tons ore shipped to Grand Tower. Fifteen car loads are being shipped per day by rail to Wheeling and Pittsburgh.

—The United States topographical engineers, appointed by the Secretary of War to examine and report upon Ohio river bridges as obstructions to navigation, having completed their labors as far as the Newport bridge and the Louisville bridge are concerned have now gone to Paducah to examine the plans of the bridge proposed to be constructed at that point.

—The Alexander Mitchell, now being strengthened on the St. Louis docks, has been chartered by the Northwestern Union Packet Company to Captain W. T. SPECIAL NOTICES.

DOCTOR WHITTIER CONTINUES TO TREAT ALL PRIVATE DISEASES. That numerous class of cases resulting from self-abuse, producing unmanliness, nervous debility, irritability, eruptions, seminal emissions, and finally impotency permanently cured. Persons afflicted with delicate, intricate and long standing constitutional complaints are politely invited to call for consultation, which costs nothing. Experience, the best of teachers, has enabled him to perfect remedies at once efficient, safe, permanent, and which in most cases can be used without hindrance to business. Medicines prepared in the establishment, which embraces office, reception and waiting rooms; also boarding and sleeping apartments for patients requiring daily personal attention, and vapor and chemical baths, thus concentrating the famed mineral springs. No matter who have failed, state your case. Read what he says in his pamphlet of fifty pages, sent to any address for two stamps in sealed envelope. Thousands of cases treated annually, at office and all over the country. Consultation free, personally or by mail. Office No. 9 Wylie street, near Court House, Pittsburgh Pa. Hours 9 A. M. to 8 P. M. Sundays 12 M. to 2 P. M. Pamphlet sent to any address for TWO STAMPS. ap3

City Hall Fair and Festival open day and evening. Mince pie to-day for dinner. Mush and milk for supper. Concert every evening.

The attention of the Republican voters of the Fifth Ward is called to an advertisement which appears on the 1st page of to-day's paper.

Dead.—Mr. Jno. Copley, an old and respected citizen of Allegheny, died yesterday. He was 76 years of age, and enjoyed the highest respect of his fellow citizens.

The following letters were held for postage at the Pittsburgh Postoffice, Nov. 29:

M. Reno Gargan, New York, 3 cents.

James Hughes, New York, 3 cents.

The Philadelphia Sunday Morning says: "The Heath Zouaves shared with the regiment the many encomiums they received for their magnificent marching and discipline."

James Hughes and Edward McAleer, teamsters, had a quarrel on Butler street yesterday. The pugilistic encounter resulted in a case before Deputy Mayor Nichols. McAleer appeared as defendant, and gave bail for a hearing.

Compliment.—The Armstrong Republican says: The Court last week resulted in the disposal of quite a number of cases, and Judge Kirkpatrick won the esteem of all for the prompt and energetic manner in which he dispatched business.

Masonic.—The members of this order belonging to the lodges of Allegheny, will meet at 9 o'clock A. M., and the members of Pittsburgh lodges at 10, this morning, for the purpose of uniting in the ceremonies of dedicating the new Hall of Jefferson and other lodges of Allegheny.

Obituary.—We are pained to announce the death of Miss Kate, the estimable and accomplished daughter of our fellow citizen J. R. Newman, Esq., which occurred last evening at six o'clock. The bereaved parents have our sincere sympathy in this their dark hour of sorrow and affliction.

The Holidays are fast approaching and that should be a reminder of the fact that harder weather is coming on apace. Of course all who desire to be protected from the chilling blasts will be glad to know that they can prepare for the chilly weather by calling at Urling Follansbee & Co's., southeast corner of Wood street and Fifth avenue.

Megraw has all the best brands of tobacco, cigars and snuff on hand at 45 Ninth street. Old smokers, and young ones too, will find everything in this line they can ask for at his establishment. He has an elegant assortment of meerschaums, and pipes of all descriptions—some of the most beautiful patterns. Call in at 45 Ninth street and get all you want.

Prof. O. S. Fowler lectures in Lafayette Hall, on Thursday, at 2:30 sharp, to ladies on female health and beauty, and on Thursday evening, at eight o'clock, on manhood and its restoration. Seats to cost twenty-five cents, and can be consulted every day and evening this week at the Monongahela House, as to your health, best business, children, &c. 2

Young Thieves.—Information was made before the Mayor yesterday charging three boys, Wm. Driscoll, Jos. Hughes and John Leonard, with the larceny of the money from Whiting's auction room, an account of which we published yesterday. The officers arrested two of the accused and a boy by the name of Coffy, from whom they obtained $50. Leonard has not yet been arrested.

Coach Overturned.—Monday afternoon one of Walker's line of coaches, a four-horse vehicle, was overturned a short distance beyond Freeport. The coach at the time contained a heavy load of passengers, a number of whom were seated on the top. It was reported that Dr. Held, of this city, had a leg broken by the accident, but this was a mistake; he was badly bruised, but not severely injured. None of the other passengers were hurt.

Installed.—Last evening Rev. D. B. Willson was installed pastor of the Reformed Presbyterian church, Allegheny (formerly Dr. Sproull's). There was a large audience in attendance, and the exercises were of a solemn and impressive character. They were conducted by Revs. A. M. Milligan, Wm. Slater and N. M. Johnston, and occupied over an hour. The congregation have long been without a regular pastor, and the installation of Rev. Mr. Willson places them again on a proper footing for work.

The Mercantile Library Hall will be opened to-morrow night for the lecture of the renowned blind preacher, Rev. W. H. Milburn, who will doubtless be greeted by a very large and appreciative audience. The subject of this lecture, Aaron Burr, is one of the most generally interesting that could be selected, the romantic, passionate, impulsive, cruel, polished Vice President of the United States, with his life of triumph, boundless ambition and final infamy and downfall, cannot fail to be a fascinating theme even in ordinary lips, and must be enthralling when treated with the brilliancy and eloquence for which this lecturer is so noted.

Death of R. M. Allen.

We have to record the death, on Monday evening last, of Mr. R. M. Allen, aged 65, at his late residence, Irwin's station, on the Pennsylvania Railway. Mr. Allen had long resided at the station, was universally known and esteemed in the neighborhood, and will be much missed and lamented. The funeral will take place this day.

A Relic of the Last Century.

Captain William Stockton, of Allegheny City, showed us yesterday a curiously wrought massive gold finger ring, which was found by some workmen engaged in excavating near an old spring at Wood's Run, in the lower part of Allegheny City. Around the outer periphery of the ring is inscribed, in bas relief, "Tho. Scarlett, O. B., 28th Dec., 1729, ÆT. 61." There is a small topaz setting, which, except that the surface is slightly scratched, retains its original brilliancy. The gold exhibits no signs of corrosion or abrasion. The size of the ring denotes that it belonged to a lady and was probably worn by the mother, sister or widow of Thomas Scarlett, whose death it records as occurring 141 years ago, 3 years anterior to the birth of Washington, 25 years before the establishment of a fort at Pittsburgh, 57 years before the establishment of the Pittsburgh GAZETTE, and 60 years before the adoption of the Federal Constitution. It is not improbable that Scarlett was a British officer, some of whose descendants or friends accompanied Braddock in 1755, as he was born in 1668 and died in 1729. The presumption is that he died in England.

A Mystery Solved.

Some four weeks since two young men from New York, giving their names as Rosenfelt, and the wife of one of them, came to this city, and renting a basement room on Penn street, commenced business, the exact nature of which was not known. The U. S. detectives found out their "rendezvous," and looked upon it with a suspicious eye. Mysterious packages were seen entering the establishment, and equally mysterious ones leaving it, but nothing of a definite character could be ascertained relative to the business. Monday the Rosenfelts concluded to leave the city, and packing up their trunks, moved them to the Union Depot and had them checked for New York. The detectives got wind of the movement and arrested the parties, and getting possession of their baggage, removed it and them to the office of the U. S. Commissioner, where both parties and baggage were examined. The parties proved to be honest, enterprising people engaged in the manufacture and sale of a patent polish, and the trunks contained the clothing of the parties and a quantity of the manufactured polish. They were permitted to go on their way without further molestation.

A Magistrate's Docket.

It is occasionally interesting to examine an alderman's police docket. It contains variety, and spice too sometimes, for "variety is the spice of life." The record, though in dry legal phraseology, tells of rows and drunkenness; of lewdness and blasphemy; of domestic trouble, and "bits of spree;" of knavery, pocket picking, robbery, confidence games, and, sometimes, murder. The amount of petty cases shown by the record is astonishing. Yesterday Alderman Taylor's docket, for instance, showed four cases disposed of during the forenoon; they were, however, generally of the trivial sort.

Mrs. Caroline McGeoughan, proprietress of the "Elegant" floating palace, Wall's boat, moored in the Allegheny near the railroad bridge, complained that John Coffman had visited the craft and slapped her mouth. An officer was sent in pursuit of the ungallant John.

James McTighe next claimed the magistrate's attention with a story of the unladylike conduct of his cousin Mary McTighe, who, he said, had called at his house and becoming [illegible] had [illegible] his [illegible] very [illegible]. The gentle Mary was brought up and gave bail for her subsequent appearance.

A [illegible] was the next culprit. Alderman Richard Allen was charged with assault and battery upon the son of Joseph Irwin. It appeared that one of Allen's boys was endeavoring to whip young Irwin and failed to be eminently successful, when his father interfered and dragged young Irwin away, besides cuffing him. Such was the prosecutor's statement. Squire Allen will be heard in his own defence to-day.

The last case was that of Samuel Loughlin, who was disorderly on the morning train of the Allegheny Valley Railroad. The conductor, W. C. Taylor, attempted to eject him and in doing so received a severe blow in the face. Hence the information. Loughlin gave bail for a hearing.

MURDER AGAIN.

A Drunken Row and its Results—A Man Beaten, and Subsequently Dies—Coroner Investigates and the Jury Return a Verdict—The Assailant on the Wing.

We are to have another murder trial, as the result of a drunken spree. Monday evening, 13th inst., a gang of laborers gathered in J. M. McAllister's saloon, in McKeesport, and commenced to quarrel, when they were ejected. One of the fellows, known as Tom Fleming, continued fighting outside, and struck a man named Keets. He was then held by the bar-keeper of the saloon while Keets ran away. Soon after the two met again, Fleming having pursued his victim, and caught him as he emerged from Baker's saloon. Keets was knocked down and abused so badly that he was unable to rise. He subsequently received medical attention from Dr. Kuhn, and was taken home, when he died from his injuries on last Monday evening. Coroner West was notified, and yesterday held an inquest, when the following testimony was elicited:

Mrs. Catharine Keets, sworn—Am the WIFE OF THE DECEASED.

He died on Monday, November 28th; my husband told me that it was in McKeesport that he was hurt; told me that it occurred on Monday, November 14, 1870, as he was coming through McKeesport on the six P. M. train, coming home; said he was beaten by three men; did not know either of them; came home on Wednesday morning, November 16th; was conscious until Thursday evening; he came on the train; was able to walk around until Thursday evening; came down stairs on Sabbath morning; complained constantly of his head, both back and front; appeared better on Monday; worse on Monday night, and Tuesday all day; was better on Wednesday, and until twelve o'clock on Thursday; got worse about one o'clock on Thursday; became unconscious until Sabbath night, about ten o'clock; never spoke but one or two conscious words from Sabbath evening at ten o'clock; was very restless all night, until about five o'clock Monday morning, fell asleep, slept until about half past eight; then appeared to rest quite easy; died at twenty-five minutes after one P. M.; was in great agony from half past eight; said several times the

complained of sickness at his stomach all the time; he said, coming through the streets of McKeesport, three men were beating a man; he stepped to one side, and pulled them off; he then walked on, and went into McAllister's tavern; in a moment after there were three men came in; thought it was the same men; thought by their action they wanted to raise a dispute with him; he went out and started for the station; they followed, and caught up with him; he started to run when they came up; one or two of them struck him; he took hold of one of them to keep him away; two of them left after they struck him; the other one kept beating him until some other one came up and took him away; was removed to Baker's tavern; it occurred near Squire Berry's office; first said he thought he was struck with a handy-billy; afterward looking at his hat, thought it MIGHT HAVE BEEN A KNIFE.

He said that Mr. McAllister told him next day after he was hurt that one of the men that followed out was of the name of Fleming (Thomas Fleming); he was forty years of age the 27th day of next March; is father of nine children; he was born in Blair county, Pennsylvania; I attended him pretty much all the time; he was a blacksmith by trade; had been working at Irwin Station; was making arrangements to move to-day; fully satisfied he thought his hurt was in his head; on Sabbath night he lost the use of his right arm and leg, and never recovered them again; there were some cuts on his face; one near the end of his nose, and one near his right eye; but complained principally of the one on the top of his head; he was attended by Dr. J. S. Kuhn; his bowels were not moved from the time of the difficulty.

P. D. Marsh, sworn—I got Keets the

and got him a place to stay; I have a warrant for Fleming but have not been able to find him; the corpse that the Coroner's jury are holding the inquest on to-day is the body of the man Keets that I got the place for to stay the night of the difficulty.

James Paul, sworn—Live on Fifth street, McKeesport; was present part of the time of the quarrel in front of Mr. Hober's; they struck a few licks but not to hurt; the man hollowed "enough" as they ran; I came back; heard screaming in front of the tavern at the bakery; ran up; Fleming had the same man down; was kicking him in the face; Jim Beckley came up, he knew Fleming and caught hold of him and told him to hold on, that was enough; Fleming went into the bar-room, and in a couple of minutes came out and caught hold of the man again and dragged him down; some one caught hold of Fleming and pulled him back; he again went into the bar-room; four of us carried the man down to Dr. Kuhn's office; he ran upon the step when he kicked him;

DID NOT SPEAK AFTER

he was hurt; never saw either of them before; the man that was hurt was a heavy set man; think I would know Fleming if I saw him again.

James Beckley, sworn—Live in McKeesport; heard Lane talking in front of Baker's tavern; went up; saw a man lying there bleeding; asked some of them to take him to the doctor; the others helped to take him to Kuhn's; Fleming said he had followed the man that was hurt up; know Fleming; saw him catch hold of him and drag him out from the step; I told him not to touch him; Fleming was cursing; heard the man that was hurt say his name was Keech, or Keets; occurred after dark; Fleming was laying gas pipe; used to live in Cookstown; don't think he is married; have known him nearly a year; he has been here ever since the gas works commenced.

Joseph Haber, sworn—Live in McKeesport; just after supper a man came in my store and said somebody was

FOLLOWING HIM TO FIGHT.

He went out; Tom Fleming was waiting out there; I took the man's arm and took him out; Fleming took hold of him and tried to push him down; he hallooed "enough;" Fleming said: "Hell, I'll give you enough;" I called to J. McAllister to part them; McAllister took hold of Fleming, and the man got loose and I went to him, gave him his hat and told him to run, which he did; Fleming said, after he went away, "I am going to hunt up the son of a b——h, and whenever I find him I'll give him a good licking;" was acquainted with Fleming.

* * * * * *

Fleming struck the old man as soon as he went out of my store; I saw Fleming next morning; I spoke to him about what he had done last night, and he laughed; I know the man that was hurt; his name was Keets, and he was a blacksmith.

Jas. H. Berry, sworn—On the morning of the 15th of November, Henry Keets came before me and preferred a charge of assault and battery against Thomas Fleming. He said he and three others were after him; he started to run; just as he was going into Baker's house, Fleming struck him on the back of the head

WITH SOME HARD INSTRUMENT.

He kind of fell forward. Fleming caught him by the coat collar, jerked him back on the pavement, and kicked him on the head and face until he became insensible. I issued a warrant and gave it to the constable; he returned it and said he could not find him; he complained of the wounds in his head hurting him very much.

D. C. Huffman, M. D., sworn—I am a practising physician; I made the post mortem examination on the body of Henry Keets, and found a wound on the scalp on the top of the head, a little to the right of the sagittal suture, about an inch long; also one on the back of the head about an inch and a half long, over the occipital bone, a little to the left of the median line, both of which, however, were scalp wounds; the latter had partially healed, but had discharged some pus; on opening the skull I found that the brain and membranes indicated inflammation; decomposition had partly taken place, but the back portion of the left cerebrum, immediately under the wound on the scalp, was broken down and mixed with blood and pus, and patches of the membranes were prematurely vascular; there was evidently scum in considerable quantities in the left ventricle; my opinion is that the man came to his

of the brain, produced by the external injuries.

John Baker, sworn—Live in McKeesport; know something about the case. The man that got hurt came in and got a glass of beer; another man came in, looked at him, and went out; then he was looking at the gas pipe. Just as I came out of the door that man struck at him and hurled a stone against the door. He then pulled him out and jerked him down on the ground; then the man hallooed; then kicked him in the face and about the head for some time. I went to him and told him to stop and not hurt him; he would not stop. I was afraid myself. Some other men came up and stopped him; did not know any of their names except Cy. Miller's; they carried him to Dr. Miller's about six o'clock; the man that struck him was rather tall and slim—rather reddish face; the man laid still; I thought he was killed; he said he was a blacksmith; had staid all night at our house; was large man, had dark hair; think he had whiskers; there is a dinge on the door, made by the stone; saw the man before, working on the street; the one that struck him was told that his name was Fleming; think it was Thomas Fleming; saw him make the motion to strike, and heard the stone hit the door, but did not see the stone; the man that was hurt had hold of the door trying to get in.

THE VERDICT.

The Coroner's jury, after duly considering the testimony, returned a verdict that the deceased, Henry Keets, came to his death Monday, the 28th of November, from wounds inflicted on his person, at McKeesport, on the 14th of November, by Thomas Fleming.

The accused has not been seen in the neighborhood of the affray since the night on which it occurred. A reward will probably be offered for his capture.

LUCAS CAUGHT.

Back to his Old Quarters—How He was Caught.

Lucas, the colored horse thief, who escaped from the Penitentiary on the morning of the 10th inst., has been captured. The circumstances of his escape will be remembered—being let out into the yard to enjoy the fresh air for the benefit of his health, he scaled the wall by means of a rope made of his bed clothing, and made off.

It seems he called at the residence of Mr. Morrow, near "Horse Shoe Bend," Perrysville plankroad, Tuesday of last week, and engaged as a farm hand. He was there recognized by a companion, who had been in prison with him. This man came to the city on Monday evening and made Warden Wright acquainted with Lucas' whereabouts. The Warden, accompanied by his informant and Mr. Bradley, livery stable keeper, proceeded in a carriage to Mr. Morrow's house. Lucas had retired for the night, but through some bungling he learned of the approach of his pursuers and escaped from the house, without shoes, coat or hat. After a search of an hour, the men desisted, and one of them returned to the city for help. He came back accompanied by officers Merriman and Kennedy, and after searching the premises of Mr. Morrow thoroughly again, they concluded to examine the corn shocks in a neighboring field. Several hours had been thus spent, and about forty shocks examined, when officer Merriman discovered the fugitive, by thrusting his hand into a shock, and coming into contact with the "coon." Lucas' quarters were surrounded, and he finding resistance useless, came out quietly and was taken into custody.

He is now in the Penitentiary, and has a pretty good chance of staying there for the next eleven years.

CAPSIZED.

The Butler Stage Upset and two Men Severely Injured.

Monday afternoon, an accident occurred on the Butler and Freeport road, about two miles from Freeport by which two men, a Mr. Miller of Butler and Dr. Held of this city were severely injured. They took passage from Butler to Freeport on the Butler stage with nine other passengers, and owing to the crowded condition of the vehicle both occupied seats on the outside with the driver, who it appears, was a merry sort of "John" and had provided himself with a bottle of whisky, from which he took frequent "nips" and by the time he reached the point indicated he was considerably under the "influence of the spirits." In other words he was drunk, and the result was he upset the stage. The passengers inside escaped without injury, but Mr. Miller and Dr. Held were both severely though not seriously hurt. They were conveyed to a house at Freeport and yesterday evening, when Mr. Walker, the proprietor of the line, and Mr. Miller removed to his home in Butler, and Dr. Held brought to the city. That driver we have been informed is out of a situation.

BRIBING JURORS.

Stitt vs. Huidekoper—Motion for a New Trial—The Reasons Setforth are that the Jurors Were Tampered With.

In the case of Stitt vs. Huidekoper, a report of the trial of which we published recently, there has been a motion by defendant's counsel for a new trial. It will be remembered that the case, which was an action for damages for breach of contract, was tried over a year since and a verdict rendered for the plaintiff in the sum of $19,000. The plaintiff alleges that he was delegated by the defendant to dispose of a tract of oil land, which defendant held at $30,000. The contract was that he was to sell the land within thirty days and he was to receive as compensation $2,500, and all over $30,000. The thirty days expired and he failed to effect a sale. He so informed defendant, and was by them directed to go on and do the best he could in the matter. Some few days afterward he effected a sale for $70,000, but the defendant declined to confirm it, whereupon he claimed damages. The defendants moved for a new trial after the first verdict, on the ground that the damages were excessive, and it was granted. The case was taken up at the beginning of the present term of the Court, and occupied the time of the Court for over a week, and on Wednesday of last week the jury found for the plaintiff in the sum of $9,000.

Defendants on Monday moved for a new trial, assigning as reasons why the same should be granted, that the jury had been tampered with by plaintiff and his friends, and that an effort had been made to influence them in plaintiff's favor. In support of this statement an affidavit was read setting forth that an attempt had been made to influence the jury. That plaintiff's friends had treated members of the jury at the expense of the plaintiff, who furnished them with the money.

The motion will come up for argument at the close of the present term of Court.

THE COURTS.

United States Circuit Court—Judge M'Kennan.

TUESDAY, Nov. 29.—Court met at 10 o'clock, A. M. Judge M'Kennan on the bench.

The first case taken up was that of Joseph B. Jones, assignee of Wm. Burns vs. the First National Bank of Clarion. This was an issue in bankruptcy to recover some $10,000. Burns had given a note for $10,000 to the bank, and when it became due, a judgment was issued on it, and property belonging to Burn, located in Jefferson county, was sold to meet the judgment. Subsequently Burns went into bankruptcy, and the assignee brought the suit to recover the amount obtained by the bank for the property sold. The case is still on trial. Messrs. Shiras, Kerr and Patterson appeared for the plaintiff, and Thos. B. Wilson, Esq., of Clarion, solicitor of the bank, H. B. Swoope, Esq., and S. A. & W. S. Purviance for the defendants.

Common Pleas—Full Bench.

TUESDAY, Nov. 29.—The Common Pleas Court met at 10 o'clock A. M. Judges Stewart Stowe and Collier on the bench. The argument list was taken up and the entire session of the Court was occupied in hearing arguments and disposing of motions.

Quarter Sessions—Full Bench.

TUESDAY, Nov. 29.—The Court of Quarter Sessions met at 10 o'clock A. M., a full bench being present. The entire session was occupied in the disposition of motions and hearing arguments on the same.

Amusements.

OPERA HOUSE.—There was a large audience at the Opera House last night to hear Mr. Emmett in his representation of "Fritz, Our Cousin German." His present engagement promises to be even more successful than that of last season.

LIBRARY HALL.—The next Lecture of the course at Library Hall will be delivered on Thursday evening, by Rev. W. H. Milburn, the "Blind Preacher." His subject will be "Aaron Burr," one of general interest to the people of this country, and one which will give full play to the eloquent powers of the celebrated lecturer.

ACADEMY.—The Ravel-Martinetti Combination at the Academy of Music are meeting with unprecedented success. Their entertainments are of a very amusing character, and the troupe is composed of first-class artists. Everybody who enjoys a laugh should go to the Academy.

VARIETIES.—The crowd at the Varieties last night was immense. There was not even standing room. Miss Kate Fisher, the celebrated equestrian actress, is the great attraction.

THEODORE THOMAS.—All lovers of good music are on the "tip-toe of expectation" relative to the approaching instrumental concerts by Theodore Thomas and his company of forty-four first class artists, which take place at Library Hall on Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings of next week. The sale of season tickets will take place at Kleber's music store on Thursday, and the sale of single tickets on Friday.

MCCAFFREY CONCERT.—Friday evening next the grand musical entertainment of the season will take place at Library Hall, by the McCaffrey Troupe. Miss Caroline McCaffrey and her sister Helen, assisted by Mr. Simpson and others, form one of the strongest musical or concert combinations in the United States. Tickets may be procured at Barr & Knake's this morning.

DRUMMER BOY.—Monday evening next the thrilling and beautiful allegory of the "Drummer Boy of Shiloh" will be presented at the Academy of Music with new scenery and improved machinery.

FAIR.—The Fair at City Hall was well attended last evening, and all present enjoyed themselves to the fullest extent.

TROUBLE AHEAD.

The Chief Engineer of the Fire Department to be Arraigned for Incompetency.

For some time past there has been dissatisfaction existing among some of our citizens relative to the manner in which the Fire Department is conducted by the Chief Engineer, or rather to his mode of operations at fires. Complaints have been made, some of which have found their way into the city papers, in relation to his incompetency, but the charges have always been of so vague a character that the Commissioners have declined to notice them. We have heretofore declined to give publicity to any of these charges for various reasons, the first and most important of which was that the paid system was new here, and any charges of this character if made public would have a tendency to demoralize the men in the department, and to a certain extent destroy their efficiency, and also for the reason that there are always persons to find fault with any thing which is not in accordance with their individual ideas. The time has passed when such reasons would be a valid excuse to the public for withholding matters of such vital importance, and feel it our duty to call the attention of the Fire Commissioners to these charges, and urge upon them the necessity of a full and thorough investigation of the matter, if for no other reason than that of the vindication of Mr. McElroy, the Chief Engineer, and to prevent that demoralization of the men under his control, which will result if these charges are not refuted and he is continued in office.

We were informed yesterday by a prominent citizen, one of the firm of Wormser, Myers & Co. of the Petrolite Oil Refinery, in the Twelfth ward, where a slight fire occurred Monday evening, a report of which we published yesterday morning, that through the mismanagement of the chief engineer their loss was double what it otherwise would have been, and that his conduct towards the manager of the works when the latter made some suggestions about the fire, was rude and ungentlemanly. The gentleman further stated, to a number of the Fire Commissioners that he intended to prefer charges against the Chief Engineer, and demand an investigation, and that he was ready to present the above allegations with positive proof.

Whether these charges are without foundation or not, it is the duty of the Commissioners to investigate them. If not true, the investigation is due to the Chief Engineer, and if true, it is equally due to the people.

We await the result of the investigation, which should be made without delay.

THE WYLIE STREET MYSTERY.

Who the Unfortunate Man Was—His Widow Identifies His Clothing—The Mystery Not Yet Solved.

Yesterday afternoon a Mrs. Iaasner, a German lady residing in Birmingham, called at Mr. Aiken's establishment on Fourth avenue, and requested to be shown the clothing of the man who died in the hospital on Monday of last week from injuries received on the Saturday night previous by falling or being thrown over an embankment on Wylie street, between Arthurs and Tannehill streets, a full report of which we published some days since. Mr. Aiken exhibited the clothing and asked the lady if there was anything else about the man when he left home she could identify, to which she replied that he had a pair of small ear-rings in his ears and a watch. The rings were produced and she identified them, and also the clothing.

She stated that her husband left home on Saturday morning, the 19th inst., and that he had in his possession about $150. His name was John Iaasner, he resided in Birmingham, and was at the time of his death about fifty-nine years of age, and leaves a widow and several children. He had at one time been engaged in the coal business and owned considerable property. She represents him to have been a sober, industrious man. She had not heard anything of his death until yesterday and wandered at her husband's protracted absence from home. Yesterday morning a paragraph in one of the German papers in relation to the matter was pointed out to her and on examining the other city papers she found that the date of her husband's departure from home and the affair on Wylie street corresponded, and she came to Mr. Aiken to ascertain what he knew of the matter.

She gave directions to have the body, which is buried in Uniondale Cemetery, removed to her residence in Birmingham for burial.

If the man had $150 in his possession when he left home, and it was not on his person when he was found by the officers, who got it?

BIRMINGHAM COUNCILS.

Expenses for the Month—New Gas Lamps Ordered—New Lamplighter.

A regular meeting of Birmingham Councils was held last evening in the office of Justice Barker. Present: Messrs. Brown, Kim, Haines, Williams, Moorhead and Burgess Phillips, who occupied the chair.

After the approval of the minutes, bills for the following amounts were presented, and warrants for their payment ordered:

Police	$110 00
Attending to gas lamps	787 50
Street cleaning	250 40
Total	$1,147 91

On motion of Mr Haines the Burgess was instructed to have five new lamps erected at different points on Carson street.

Leggate's Real Estate and Stock Exchange.

Sales at auction on Monday evening:

Pleasant Valley Railway Co.'s Bonds 90c

" " " Stocks at par

National Insurance Co.'s Stock, for prep'd $38

The above was the beginning of Mr. Leggate's regular Monday evening Real Estate and Stock Exchange. The attendance was large and the few items of local Stocks offered were eagerly bid for and brought good prices. It is especially creditable to the management of the Pleasant Valley Company that its stock found buyers at par, and its bonds at 90 per cent., which compare with the rates obtained on many of the largest and strongest corporations in the market. The sale of National Insurance stock (an Allegheny Institution) at more than 50 per cent. above par is conclusive as to the judicious management and great prosperity of that Company. The public may be sure, at least, that in the conduct of his Exchange, Mr. Leggate will spare no effort to make it a useful institution. His large experience and well-known energy and tact, and the perfect fidelity to his clients which characterize all his dealings, afford ample assurance that his enterprise in establishing an Allegheny Exchange will prove a complete success and a great public convenience.

STATE ITEMS.

A ROUSVILLE billiardist pays $3,600 per year rent for his hall.

PAUL SCHOEPPE'S friends yet press the Governor for a pardon.

N. A. ROCKAFIELD, local editor of the Lancaster Express, is dead.

DEER by the dozen are daily seen on the hills above Smethport, McKean county.

A TIDIOUTE father has recovered from a house of ill-fame in Oil City his young and foolish daughter.

WESTLAKE, Hutchins & Co., of Cleveland, are about erecting an immense oil refinery in Titusville.

CONDUCTORS on the Pennsylvania Railroad lock the door of the car stoves to keep the fire from going out.

THE Keystone Saw and File Works of Philadelphia employ 600 workmen and make $1,000,000 worth of goods yearly.

HARRISBURG people die early. The census shows among all the inhabitants not a man or woman over ninety years of age.

HENRY SIMPSON, of Sunbury, came near going to eternity on the approved modern way—kindling a fire with petroleum.

ON Wednesday evening last a young girl, about 14 years of age, daughter of John McGrath, of West Chester, was outraged by a black man, after night, fall in a quiet part of the town.

PENNSYLVANIA, according to recent official statistics, ranks fourth among the States of the Union as regards the number of its merchant vessels and the total amount of its tonnage.

PHILADELPHIA is the fourth in rank among the cities of the civilized world, and contains about one hundred and ten thousand dwelling houses, or about forty thousand more than New York.

IN Pennsylvania about 5,000 teachers quit the business of teaching every year, and their places have to be supplied with as many new recruits. Our State Normal Schools now graduate annually less than one hundred; if the remaining 4,900 are to be fully prepared for their work—where, and how?

WE HAVE received the prospectus of the Advance, a new independent weekly newspaper which is shortly to appear at Greenville, Pa., by Messrs. Dumars, Yeakle and Harpst. Mr. W. H. Dumars will occupy the editorial chair. He is a gentleman of large experience in journalism. We wish the new enterprise much success.

AT a stone quarry in Columbia, Lancaster county, recently, at one blast an immense boulder 35 feet long, 9 feet deep, and fifteen feet wide, supposed to weigh about 1,200 tons, was lifted from its place and thrown to a convenient spot for breaking and hauling off. Other stones of almost equal weight and dimensions were broken loose.

THE report prevails at Shamburg that Captain Mike Galligan, well known as an operator at Atkinson, some two years ago, lost his life by ship-wreck, during the late disastrous storms on the lakes. The Captain sailed from Buffalo, and one of his passengers was the well known Bill McChrist, or Ohio Bill, formerly of Shamburg, who is also reported lost.

THE building of a railroad from York to Gettysburg direct, is beginning to be agitated with decided earnestness. It is said that parties abroad will furnish a large proportion of the means—probably two thirds—if the people of York and Gettysburg and along the route will subscribe the balance—that is, Gettysburg to take $25,000 of the stock, York from $50,000 to $75,000, and between the two points about the same as the latter—the estimated cost of the road being $450,000.

ON Thursday last, says the Armstrong Republican, "Dutch John," Judge Buffington's man of all work, made a narrow escape from instant death. It seems that he was driving three heifers into town from the Judge's farm, and in crossing the railroad one of the animals ran up the track and fell partly through the bridge. John attempted to get it out and while doing so, a train came along knocking John quite a distance and killing the heifer. John escaped with a few slight bruises.

RAILROADS.

TIPTON, Cedar county, Iowa, has voted $51,000, and Iowa City $60,000, in aid of the building of the Iowa Southwestern Railroad.

THE Belleville & Southern Illinois Railroad is now running a through train to DuQuoin, a distance of seventy-four miles from East St. Louis.

THE cars on the Davenport & St. Paul Railroad are expected into Maquoketa (forty-nine miles north of Davenport) before the close of this month.

THE Milwaukee & Northern Railway completed the first section of its line on Saturday, when the ironing was finished to Cedarburg, a distance of 20 miles.

THE Selma, Marion and Memphis Railroad is completed to Greensborough, Alabama. The directors intend to push it on as rapidly as possible to Eutaw, Alabama.

THE trouble on the Carthage and Quincy Railroad, consequent upon the running away of two sub-contractors without paying their laborers, has been settled by the railway company, and the men are again at work.

TRAINS on the Southern Minnesota Railroad are now running regularly between Welles, Faribault County, Minnesota, and LaCrosse. About the 1st of December, the cars will run to Winnebago City, 170 miles from LaCrosse.

THE Lake City (Minn.) Ledger says: "Mr. Dodge, the engineer of the River Railroad, recently informed us that Lake City could ride by rail to St. Paul before the 4th of July next and that the connection below will be completed not long after."

THE Titusville Herald says: Track laying on the Union & Titusville Railroad is progressing rapidly, notwithstanding the unfavorable weather. The road will be completed from Union to Riceville, a distance of eleven miles, by Tuesday next. This is about half the distance, and the work will be rapidly pushed forward to this city.

THE work on the Broadford and Mt. Pleasant Railroad is being rapidly pushed, and the expenses for labor last month were very large. President A. O. Tinstman says the road will be completed and in running order by the 1st of January, '71, and the Treasurer, C. O. Overholt, of Mt. Pleasant, reports that the stockholders are paying up their instalments promptly.

AT the recent meeting of the directors of the proposed Northeast Pennsylvania Railroad, it was determined to make the lower terminus of the road at Edge Hill, where it will connect with a branch of the Plymouth road, which is to be built to that point by the Reading Railroad. The estimated cost of building this road from Edge Hill to the Bristol road, in Bucks county, ten miles, is $248,410.

SIOUX CITY, Iowa, hopes to have a branch of the Chicago & Rock Island Railroad built from a point 25 miles west of Des Moines; thence north-west, crossing the Northwestern Railroad in Carroll County; thence to New Ida; thence to Sioux City. A gentleman in Ottaway writes to a land agent in Sioux City: "This road is sure to be built, as I have my information direct from one of the Directors."

CONCERNING the prospective connection of Titusville with Tidioute by railroad, the Warren Mail states that the N. Y. Central Railroad is negotiating for the purchase or control of the Dunkirk and Warren Railroad, with a fair prospect of success. In this event it will become an important thoroughfare, giving the Central access to the oil regions directly, and adding largely to its already heavy carrying trade.

A NORTHERN company have purchased the charter of the Florida Railroad Company, and have bound themselves to complete the track as far as Ocala within six months from date of the purchase. The iron has been purchased for the road between Waldo and Ocala. The company has obtained a charter from the Georgia Legislature for a road to connect with other roads at Millen, on the Georgia Central road, and joining this route at King's Ferry on the St. Mary's river.

A TRIP has just been made by parties in interest of the Iowa Southwestern Railroad. At Oskaloosa, the people, jubilant over the completion of the Central Road to their town, were ready to vote a tax for the Southwestern; at Leon, in Decatur county, a meeting was held and a resolution passed pledging the right of way and $4,000 per mile through the county; at Garden Grove, same county, the township right of way was pledged, and $4,000 per mile through the township; at Chariton the same pledge for Lucas county was made that was received at Leon for Decatur county.

THE Bellevernon, Fayette county, correspondent of the Uniontown Genius of Liberty says: "There has been a survey from Bellevernon to West Newton, and also to Smith's Mills, with a view to building a cross-cut railroad from this point to connect with the P. & C. Road. The distance is from seven to nine miles. Should the road be built, its projectors are sanguine that it will touch a point on the Monongahela river, not over twelve miles below Brownsville. At a meeting of citizens of Fayette and Westmoreland counties held at Rankin's corners, Nov. 11th, at which the President of the P. & C. R. R. and the President of the Baltimore Coal Company was present, it was unanimously agreed to adjourn to meet at Bellevernon on Tuesday, 22d inst., at which place and time the project was put into tangible shape."

AN OPPORTUNITY Seldom Offered

Is now opened for Investors and Capitalists to buy the guaranteed Second Mortgage Six per cent. Bonds of the

Indianapolis & Vincennes RAILROAD COMPANY,

Guaranteed by the Pennsylvania Central Railroad Company, as the following able opinion will explain for itself, to-wit:

NEW YORK, July 16, 1870.

GENERAL A. E. BURNSIDE. DEAR SIR.—We have examined the two contracts of guaranty, dated 1st of July instant, executed by the Pennsylvania R. R. Co., and deposited with the Farmers' Loan and Trust Co., by one of which the Pa. R. R. Co. guarantee the payment of the principal and interest of the exchanged or substituted bonds secured by the first mortgage of the Indianapolis and Vincennes R. R. Co. to Edward Pearce and William Goddard, Trustees, for $1,700,000, and by the other, of which the Pa. R. R. Co. guarantees the payment of the principal and interest of the second mortgage bonds of the Indianapolis and Vincennes Railroad Co. for $1,450,000, and we are of the opinion that these guaranties are in proper legal form to bind the Pennsylvania R. R. Co.; that that Company is fully authorized by law to enter into such guaranties, and that the bondholders, in case of need, can bring suit in their own names respectively, on the guaranties thus with the Farmers Loan and Trust Company for their benefit.

Yours, respectfully,

[Signed,] CHARLES F. SOUTHMAYD,

Of Evarts, Choate & Southmayd

We concur in the above opinion.

[Signed,] MILLER, PEET & OPDYKE.

Only a LIMITED FEW of the above bonds remain unsold, at the fixed rate of 80 and accrued interest from May 1st. They have 30 years to run, pay 6 per cent. interest per annum, semi-annually; and, being GUARANTEED by the PENNSYLVANIA CENTRAL RAILROAD, makes them as desirable a HOME INVESTMENT as the Pittsburgh Fort Wayne & Chicago Railway bonds, guaranteed by the same Railroad (P. C. R. R.) Company.
